Lisbon Man Killed By Car As He Walks Along Rt. 30

Investigation continued today in the death of a 30-year-old Lisbon man who was struck and killed by an auto operated by a teen- aged Pittsburgh girl on Route 30 near West Point early this morning.

Robert Raymond Laughlin of 510 W. Washington St. was pronounced dead at Salem City Hospital with injuries suffered when hit by the car about a half-mile north of the Route 45 intersection near West Point at 12:25 a. m.

THE OHIO Highway Patrol at Lisbon said the victim was struck by a 1965 convertible operated by Leslie Ann Heath, 17, of 1431 Beechwood Blvd., Pittsburgh.

Officers said the girl was headed south and had pulled out into the northbound lane to pass a tractor - trailer truck when her car hit Laughlin, who was walking on the paved section of the roadway.

He was thrown up against the windshield of the car, breaking the glass, and was either knocked or carried by the car some distance.

Neither the driver nor a passenger, Noah Totten, 19, of Pittsburgh was injured in the mishap.

The death was the ninth traffic fatality in Columbiana County this year, compared with nine at this time in 1965.

Mr. Laughlin was born in Lisbon Aug. 2, 1935, a son of Robert F. Laughlin and Elizabeth Freeman Laughlin, who survive at the home. He had resided in the Lisbon area his lifetime.

He was on a leave of absence from the Mullins Manufacturing Corp. in Salem and was attending the Salem Technical School to learn the trade of a machine operator.

He was a 1953 graduate of Lisbon High School and attended Ohio State University, Columbus, and Youngstown University. He was a member of the Lisbon First Presbyterian Church and the Lisbon Eagles Lodge.

In addition to his parents, he is survived by a sister, Mrs. Sylvia Polack of Lisbon.

Services will be held Monday at 2:30 p. m. at the Eells-Leggett Funeral Home in Lisbon by the Rev. Paul Gerrard. Friends may call at the funeral home Sunday from 2 to 4 and 7 to 9 p. m.

THE PATROL reported two other mishaps Friday, one in which a Rogers woman and child were injured slightly when their car veered off Route 154 and struck a concrete culvert.

Mrs. Jean Gorby, 40, of Rogers was driving on Route 154 about four miles west of Rogers when her 1959 coach went off the highway and hit the culvert about 3:35 p. m.

She told officers she was attempting to make the child, Rodney Gorby, 2, more comfortable on the seat beside her when the auto went off the road. She suffered a cut of the lip and a bruised chin, and the boy received a head bruise. Both were treated by a physician.

Ronald K. Broadbent, 21, of 973 Ohio Ave. was cited after his truck struck the rear of another on Route 170 in the Calcutta area at 2:55 p. m.

A truck operated by Clyde McGaffie, 38, of 817 Orchard Grove Ave. had halted about a mile east of Route 30 when a vehicle in front of him stopped to make a left turn.

Broadbent was unable to stop behind McGaffie's truck, and his vehicle struck the rear of the other. He was charged with failure to stop in the assured clear distance.

Ky To Stay In Power At Least Year

Says It Will Take
That Long To Elect
Civilian Regime

CAN THO, South Viet Nam (AP) — Premier Nguyen Cao Ky, who has promised early elections in South Viet Nam, said today his military government will stay in power at least another year. It will take that long to elect a civilian government, he told newsmen.

Ky also said that if the government eventually emerging from the elections is neutralist or Communist, "I and my friends will fight it."

But he added, "I am sure the majority of Vietnamese are anti-Communist. I am sure no such government will be elected."

The premier made the statements at a news conference at nearby Binh Tuy airbase which was turned over to Vietnamese authorities by the United States today.

"I expect to stay in power for at least another year — perhaps until the middle of next year," he said. "There is no doubt about that."

The election, expected to be held some time between Sept. 15 and Oct. 1, will choose an assembly charged with drafting the nation's constitution, Ky said. Once the constitution has been drafted, another vote will be held to elect a legislative assembly which, in turn, will appoint a civilian government. The process will take at least a year, Ky said.

His statement was likely to provoke sharp reaction from the country's power-seeking Buddhists. It was under pressure from the Buddhists, a majority in South Viet Nam, that the 10-man Ky junta agreed to hold elections. However, the military government did not set a specific time for turning the country over to civilian rule.

Ky's statement was the first clearly spelling out his plans since the recent political turmoil.

Asked whether he or any of his military colleagues would be candidates for the legislature, Ky replied: "I don't know yet. It is possible. I am fatalist and I believe in my destiny."

Ky spoke later before a crowd of American and foreign newsmen, giving his views on a wide range of subjects.

Ky often has made pledges in the past that had to be withdrawn in the country's topsy-turvy political situation. It could not be determined immediately to what extent Ky spoke in the name of the other generals holding shaky power in Saigon.

"We think the military men will continue to play a very important role in Viet Nam," he said.

"One thing we know — if the people elect a neutralist or Communist government, we will fight. We have enough means to fight."

Asked about the possibility of increased Viet Cong agitation in urban centers before the elections, Ky replied, "You never know. All is possible here."

Tass Says U.S. Planes 'Intruded Air Space'

MOSCOW (AP)—A Tass dispatch from Hanoi said today American planes "intruded the air space" of the North Vietnamese capital.

"The quiet noon in Hanoi was shattered by the roar of jet planes and explosions. American planes intruded into the air space of the Vietnamese capital and were met by anti-aircraft fire," Tass said. "One American plane flew over the western suburbs of Hanoi."

Red Force Annihilated, U.S. Command Claims

PREMIER NGUYEN GAO KY of South Viet Nam declared today he expects to continue in power for "about at least another year." His statement, expected to draw a strong reaction from his Buddhist foes, came during a ceremony in which an American air base was formally handed over to the South Vietnamese government. ## 416 Killed In Two Days Of Fighting

Central Viet Nam
Combat Heaviest
Action In 3 Weeks

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — The U.S. Command claimed today the annihilation of a reinforced Communist battalion in two days of savage fighting in central Viet Nam.

A military spokesman said there was "precious little left" of more than 400 Viet Cong and North Vietnamese troops encountered 10 miles north of Bong Son and 280 miles northeast of Saigon in Operation Davy Crockett. The fighting has taken place near the coast along the South China Sea.

The spokesman said troops of the helicopter-lifted 1st Cavalry, (Airmobile) Division killed 332 enemy soldiers Thursday and Friday.

A South Vietnamese spokesman reported that Vietnamese paratroopers and reconnaissance units who supported the American action killed 84 more. This raised the total enemy dead to 416.

The heavy ground fighting, the biggest action in three weeks, dominated a day in which there were also these developments:

1. Prime Minister Nguyen Cao Ky declared he would retain his post at the head of the South Vietnamese government for at least another year. He thereby possibly touched off new political unrest from power-seeking Buddhists because of his earlier promise to step down after the national elections scheduled by September.

2. The U.S. Air Force, in a delayed report, said its fighter-bombers had wrecked two spans of the vital Bac Giang railroad and highway bridge 25 miles northeast of Hanoi. The bridge is a key link in the rail and road system from the North Vietnamese capital to Communist China.

3. Air Force B52 bombers again bombed a suspected Viet Cong troop concentration near the Cambodian border, 75 miles northeast of Saigon. It was the seventh day in a row that the giant bombers returned to the Viet Cong stronghold, to support U.S. 1st Infantry Division troops.

In addition to more than 400 killed in Operation Davy Crockett, the military spokesman reported the capture of 40 Communists and 515 suspects.

He said that there had been no significant contact with the enemy since midnight, indicating that the remnants of the Communist force had fled.

The spokesman said 12 U.S. air sorties were flown in support of the action and credited pilots with killing 85 of the Viet Cong.

"If the enemy force was a battalion as estimated at first," he said, "there is precious little of it left. Even if there were two

Reynolds Tobacco Co. Set To Boost Prices

WINSTON-SALEM, N.C. (AP) — R. J. Reynolds Tobacco Co., which rescinded a cigarette price increase in March at the urging of the White House, says it no longer can avoid a boost.

The company announced Friday the price of regular-size cigarettes will go from $8.80 per thousand to $9, less 2 per cent discount. King-size brands will go from $9 to $9.20. Reynolds said this still would be 20 per cent less than the price hike it announced in March.

The company said the lower prices have not increased sales enough to offset increased costs. The White House had asked the company to hold prices down to help combat inflation.

Call For World Front To Crush It

Red Chinese Accuse U.S., Soviet Of 'Holy Alliance'

TOKYO (AP) — A leading Red Chinese official has called for a united world front to crush what he calls a U.S.-Soviet "holy alliance."

Teng Hsiao-peng, general secretary of the Chinese Communist party, said Friday night the Russians and Americans were "rallying monsters of all kinds to knock together a counter-revolutionary 'holy alliance,' in an attempt to isolate China, Albania, all Marxist-Leninist parties, all Marxist-Leninists and all revolutionary forces."

As a reaction to this, Teng said, China was forming an international front based on "the great unity of all the revolutionary peoples of the world." The united front was announced after a series of talks between Chinese and Albanian Communist leaders.

Teng addressed a crowd of 10,000 gathered in Shanghai to honor visiting Albanian Premier Mehmet Shehu. Chinese Premier Chou En-lai attended the rally. The official New China News Agency distributed the text of Teng's speech today.

"With the aim of isolating U.S. imperialism to the maximum and dealing it the heaviest possible blows," Teng said, "we have consistently stood for the formation of an international united front, the broadest united front and not a narrow one, the most genuine one, and not a sham."

"The leading group of the Communist party of the Soviet Union naturally cannot be included in this united front, since it not only does not oppose, but actively serves, U.S. imperialism."

He urged a "fight to the finish" against the Soviet leadership and said there could be no compromise with it.

Teng's speech reflected a further toughening of the Chinese line both at home and abroad. It coincided with new purges of Chinese intellectuals and stepped-up attacks on the Russians, who are accused of selling out the Viet Nam war effort on behalf of the United States.

Hysni Kapo, of the Albanian Communist party Politburo, echoed the Chinese line on Viet Nam. He said the Russians "are undermining the heroic struggle of the Vietnamese people behind the facade of aid, and are attempting to profit from it and strengthen Soviet-U.S. collaboration."

Teng, regarded as No. 5 in the Communist hierarchy, called the Soviet Communist party "a paper tiger." He said, "It is entirely possible to defeat it."

Development Seen In Viet Cong Power

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — Despite many successful efforts to interdict supplies, military authorities here see evidence that the combat strength of the Viet Cong force is becoming more and more that of a regular army. Once it consisted largely of poorly armed guerrillas.

This year 120mm mortars were added to the arsenal of insurgent regiments crisscrossing South Viet Nam. Military sources say these are of Soviet design but 95 per cent of them were made in Communist China.

A U.S. spokesman spoke this week of a critical shortage of supplies among the insurgents, but this shortage was mainly in food, clothing and medical supplies in some areas.

The primary aim is to supply weapons to fighting units. The assumption is that they can survive by requisitioning and pillaging food in the countryside.

Authorities are aware of at least 80 Viet Cong base areas — centers of training, supplies and command posts. Although pounded by bombs and artillery shells, these bases continue to train and process recruits and carry on a large-scale war effort.

The military Viet Cong build-up, which has reached an estimated 107 combat battalions averaging 500 men each, is paralleled by an intricate political organization spread throughout Viet Nam.

Men trained in Chinese-type indoctrination and military schools constitute the backbone of the Viet Cong military and political apparatus.

Shields Outlines Program

Broader Vocational Plan Set For Hancock Schools

The trade and industrial program will be expanded and several new vocational courses added next term for students enrolled in Hancock County schools.

In announcing the advancements, Thomas C. Shields Jr., curriculum coordinator for the high schools, said that introduction of the new programs will mean "that the students will have an even more comprehensive educational program available."

The vocational programs, which will be supplemented by federal aid and approved by the State Department of Education, follow:

Vocational Business Education, which will include a reorganization of the present business education program and the addition of modern business equipment to the present facilities. Distributive education, in which students receive actual work experience in local business establishments, will be included. These students will be trained in the area of merchandising, marketing and in the distribution of goods on the American business scene.

Other areas of Business Education which will be a part of the program are programs to develop stenographers, bookkeepers and clerk - typists. These students will get thorough training in the latest business machines and methods and work on campus in business education laboratories, Shields said.

Electronics Technology is a four - year program which will train students to be technologists in one of the world's fastest-growing industries. Upon completion of the program, students will receive a certificate qualifying them to be engineering assistants working in the development of missiles systems, data processing system, radio other areas of electronics manufacturing. Shields explained. Students will study for three years in a new laboratory housing the latest electronic education equipment.

Vocational Home Economics will be offered to students for three years and will be taught on both campuses in newly - equipped laboratories. "Students will learn in depth about all areas of home and family care. They will receive training in the vocational areas of food processing, home nursing, child care and home care and development," Shields continued.

Trade and industrial education includes the present programs of machine shop, welding shop, electricity shop and automotive mechanics. A new addition to this area will be a program of radio and television servicing. In this course students will work in a new laboratory and with county television equipment and graduate as trained radio and TV servicemen. The electricity shop also will be furnished with a new laboratory and new equipment.

In addition to the new vocational subjects, the county's high schools will offer expanded industrial arts programs which will include two years of practical arts to all students.

Included in the shops will be

Actor In Home Stretch Of Drive

Reagan Has Confidence In His Bid For Governor

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Children shrieked in a distant playground, but the sound was all but blotted out as a group of well-dressed suburban housewives applauded Ronald Reagan.

The boyish, 55-year-old actor, in the home stretch of his campaign for the Republican nomination for governor of California, exuded confidence. How do things look?

"So good it's almost scary," he told a reporter at this "coffee hours," the first of the long day's appearances.

"There seems to be a groundswell over the state," he said, ignoring the soundings of some experts.

Reagan is campaigning six and sometimes seven days a week. In the June 7 primary, he will be up against George Christopher, former mayor of San Francisco, and William Penn Patrick, a cosmetics manufacturer. Some observers think Christopher is in front.

At the Reagan gathering, coffee, doughnuts and sweet rolls were served. Bunting on stakes led up the driveway, past ladies at "Donation — $1" tables and pennants reading "Happiness is a Republican governor."

About 150 women were gathered on the lawn of a one-acre North Hollywood estate.

The chairlady introduced Reagan as "a citizen politician, not a professional politician."

Reagan took the cue. "I'm not a professional politician — I make no bones about that. But we have the record of the professional politicians before us, and I think it's time for some common sense in government."

Lusty applause. In the course of his talk he gave his views on a variety of subjects:

As an ex-Democrat: "I thought I'd found my way of serving by campaigning for the other party. I didn't change. That party changed."

Applause.

"Our state administration is characterized by political hacks, cronies and relatives. I've only got one brother, and he's got a good job already."

Laughter.

Reagan proposed a committee of "the best legal brains in the state" to choose a panel from which the governor would have to appoint judges, taking this function "out of politics."

Loud applause.

How does he stand on so-called "fair housing" legislation?

Reagan said he has fought discrimination all his life, but the government shouldn't control "our right to disposition of our possessions."

The Berkeley student riots?

"The administration should have taken the ringleaders by the scruff of the neck and expelled them from the university."

Police review boards? He's against them. LSD? "I say outlaw it and marijuana, and strengthen the hands of our police."

He's for water chlorination but, "Frankly, I don't see the need for fluoridation. I've never known teeth cavities to be catching — even under the most romantic circumstances."

Beaver Jury Action Slated On 76 Cases

Beaver County District Atty. Robert J. Masters will present 76 cases when the Grand Jury meets Monday at the Beaver Courthouse.

Among the cases is one involving a street riot in Midland last Feb. 13.

Four East Liverpool men and Midland and Beaver Falls residents were arrested after the melee.

Ronald Roach, Lester Roach, Marvin Pack and Richard Pack, all of East Liverpool, Charles Allen of Midland and John L. Slappy of Beaver Falls were charged with "inciting a riot" by Midland police.

Ronald Roach is also charged with aggravated assault and battery and Slappy with obstructing an officer in line of duty.

Two other Midland men are involved in cases — Svetko Kovachovich, driving while intoxicated, and Jimmy Brown, aggravated assault and battery.

Willard McCanna of Industry faces charges of contributing to the delinquency of a minor.

The only area jury member is William Shinkle of Frankfort Springs.

The jury will meet all next week to determine which cases will be placed before the September session of court.

Bowling Green Defers

Programs, No Funds

BOWLING GREEN, Ohio (AP)—Bowling Green State University, despite a record $14.7 million budget for the next school year, is deferring several needed programs for lack of funds, its president said Friday.

President William T. Jerome III said at a trustees meeting it is "evident that a number of desirable programs and activities are being deferred or underfinanced."

He called the library budget inadequate and said a fund-raising campaign was planned because of the need for more library money.

The university will receive

only about $6.6 million in state appropriations, and meet the rest of the $14.7 million budget

with non-tax funds, Jerome said.

Camera Club Plans

Trip To Put-In-Bay

An overnight trip to Put-In-Bay in June was discussed during the Friday night meeting of the Tri-State Camera Club at the Ohio Valley Gas Co. building in Glenmoor.

Prints submitted by Wilbert Smith of the Campground Rd. received first place in the covered bridge contest judging.

A film was screened on picture trips during vacations.

Albert Pittinger, president, conducted the business session.

2 Tavern Operators

To Receive Hearings

Operators of two Columbiana County taverns are scheduled to receive hearings Wednesday before the Ohio Liquor Control Commission at Columbus on alleged violations.

Perry Young and Nellie Young of Young's Tavern at 236 S. Main St., Columbiana, are charged with sale of beer to a minor and Victor L. Hanna of the American Restaurant at 255 Main St., Leetonia, with illegal sale of whisky and selling whisky while a permit was under suspension.

More than 60 billion pounds of poultry and meat products were inspected last year by the U.S. Dept. of Agriculture.

Wrath Descends On Meany

Rep. Powell Lashes Back At His AFL-CIO Critics

WASHINGTON (AP) — An angry Adam Clayton Powell, stung by AFL-CIO criticism of his moves against the on-site picketing bill, has lashed back at the "senile, puerile, sterile old men" who he said make up the top leadership of the giant labor organization.

"There's no respect for labor anymore," declared Powell, chairman of the House Education and Labor Committee. "It's led by a bunch of old men standing in the way of progress."

Powell's wrath descended on AFL-CIO President George J. Meany and his associates at a news conference he called Friday shortly after the organization's executive council harshly criticized him for failing to bring up in the House a bill that would permit building trades unions to picket construction sites even though only one contractor is involved in a labor dispute.

The council, in a resolution passed at its quarterly session meeting, urged the House leadership to take steps if Powell does not change his mind "to ensure that the principles of democracy will prevail and that the members will have an opportunity to vote on this issue."

The bill was taken off the calendar by Speaker John W. McCormack, D-Mass., Wednesday at Powell's request. Powell said he didn't want to act on it until the Senate did.

He said that for the record, but actually he has been delaying the bill for years because of his profound disapproval of the building trades unions' record in bringing Negroes into membership. He made that clear at his news conference.

"For 15 years the common situs bill has been before Congress," he said, "and for 15 years the building trades have refused to change their rules covering minorities — not just Negroes, but Mexicans, Jews,

Catholics, and even, in some cases, Protestants.

"At a meeting with Meany three years ago — the first, only and last time we met — I asked him to get to work and change this. Well, what's happened?" Powell asked.

"Right here on Capitol Hill there are 401 skilled workers in the electrical, carpentry and plumbing shops and only two of them are Negroes."

"When I took this up with J. George Stewart, the architect of the Capitol, Stewart said he didn't pick the men, he let the AFL-CIO refer them to him."

The New York Democrat said, "Do you think I'm going to do anything — as a plain citizen, let alone as chairman of the Education and Labor Committee — to perpetuate this mockery of democracy?"

Powell grew angrier as the conference progressed and broadened his attack to include Stewart.

"The entire labor situation on Capitol Hill stinks. The Negroes are working on an antebellum plantation here and the Simon Legree is Architect of the Capitol Stewart, with the full connivance of the AFL-CIO."

Powell said hardly anybody wanted the construction picketing bill, anyway.

"I may be talking out of school," he said, "but except for the speaker, the House leadership doesn't want the bill, over 30 members of the liberal Democratic study group said they don't want the bill and I've had no pressure whatsoever, not even a phone call, from the White House. Not a single member asked me to call it up and scores of them came up and thanked me for not bringing it up."

At first, Powell said he intended to call up the bill in the next Congress, but as his anger grew he changed his mind.

"I may not even bring it up next year," he said.

In Senate Investigation

Army Blamed In Junking Vehicles Of Repair Value

WASHINGTON (AP) — An Army Jeep that could have been repaired for $447 was junked instead, says a Senate investigator, despite a shortage of Jeeps in South Viet Nam.

The investigator, Joseph Lippman, told the Senate subcommittee on foreign aid Friday the Army is writing off as junk hundreds of heavy-duty vehicles which then are repaired and distributed by the Agency for International Development as foreign aid.

This is happening, he testified, although there is now an unfilled requirement in the Asian war zone for 1,851 Jeeps, trucks, cranes and other backup supplies.

Lippman told the committee that the Defense Department has discarded 1,631 pieces of used equipment in Asia alone within the past year.

"The Marines would love to get their hands on this equipment," he said.

Lippman, staff director for the subcommittee, said the Jeep that could have been repaired for $447 needed minor front end adjustments, a new canvas top and similar accessories. The 1952 model had only been driven 13,161 miles but the Army decided it was too old.

The testimony came during the second round in an investigatory hearing that has drawn a Pentagon charge that the subcommittee chairman, Sen. Ernest Gruening, D-Alaska, wants to equip American forces with junk.

Gruening said after Friday's hearing he would ask Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara to testify next week. The Pentagon had no immediate comment.

"There's no question about it, the Army is giving equipment away on a lavish scale," the senator said. "The idea that it is junk is just ridiculous."

He said AID officials have told him that the equipment, when repaired, provides 70 per cent of original life. "That can hardly be described as junk."

Among present unfilled requirements for U.S. forces in South Viet Nam, Lippman said, are 31 Jeeps, 354 small trucks, 674 cargo trucks and four 60-ton trailers.

In recent months, he charged, the Pentagon has discarded 826 Jeeps, 215 small trucks, 281 cargo trucks and four 60-ton trailers.

Washington Fugitive

Arrested In Lancaster

LANCASTER, Ohio (AP)—A fugitive wanted for a May 1965 prison break in the state of Washington was arrested here Friday by FBI agents.

Agents said the man, Milo James Spooner, 27, was arrested at a carnival where he was working. He was jailed in Columbus after a U.S. Commissioner set bond at $2,500. Spooner was serving a term for forgery when he escaped, the FBI said.

How Can I?

Q.—When boiling quite old potatoes, how can I prevent their darkening as they boil?
A.—By using a little milk in your cooking water.

Q.—When packing bottles filled with fluids into my luggage, how can I insure their not leaking?
A.—By dipping the corked ends of the bottles into melted paraffin, you'll provide a leak-proof seal.

Q.—How can I take away a faded and worn appearance at the seams of a carpet?
A.—Try using paint or soft crayons of the same shades as in the rug, and touching up the worn places with these.

Q.—How can I cope with animal stains on my carpets?
A.—These should be dealt with quickly as possible after they have occurred. Sponge with a solution made from 1/2-cup of salt to a quart of water. Follow by sponging with a solution of one part ammonia to 20 parts of water. Best results are achieved when soonest applied.

Q.—How can I improvise a "stick - proof" glue - bottle cork?
A. Try using the stump of an old candle as your "cork." This will prevent your glue from spilling or hardening — and it will not stick the next time you want to use your glue.

Q.—How can I remove those annoying and unsightly fuzz balls that sometimes collect on sweaters?
A.—These can usually be whisked off very easily with a dry sponge.

Dodd's $5 Million Libel Suit Cites 2 Columnists

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Thomas J. Dodd has answered columnists Drew Pearson's and Jack Anderson's charges of misconduct by filing a $5 million conspiracy and libel suit against them.

The suit, filed in U.S. District Court late Friday by Dodd's attorney, accuses the columnists of falsely picturing the Connecticut Democrat as unfit to be a senator, as an agent of foreign interests, as interfering with the award of government contracts in return for bribes, and as unlawfully diverting campaign funds for his personal use.

Among other things, Dodd denies in the suit that he had made a trip to West Germany in 1964 to help Chicago public relations man Julius Klein "hang onto his clients," that he had ever made any Senate speeches written for him by Klein, or that he had accepted expensive gifts from Klein or acted as his "errand boy."

At Dodd's request, the charges now are being investigated by the Senate Select Committee on Standards and Conduct, a bipartisan group set up last year to police senatorial ethics. It is commonly known as the Senate Ethics Committee.

The committee announced last week it would hold public hearings on Dodd's relationship with Klein, who is a registered agent for West German industrial interests.

No date has been set for the hearings, but Dodd told newsmen Friday the sooner they are held, the better. The committee "sufficient time to prepare his defense."

Controversy has developed over whether these were campaign funds or tax-free gifts to help Dodd meet the extra expenses of public office. The Internal Revenue Service is investigating the matter, first brought to attention by Pearson and Anderson.

Dodd reportedly received between $100,000 and $200,000 from testimonial dinners in 1961, 1963 and 1965 at which President Johnson and Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey were the principal speakers.

In a statement released by his office, Pearson said he welcomed the suit because it "gives us an opportunity which we have never had before, that of subpoenaing records."

"If the Senate Ethics Committee fails to do a thorough job," the Pearson statement said, "I trust that with the power of subpoena we can make up for any Senate oversights."

The Dodd suit also denies that the senator had ever improperly said it wanted to give him or unlawfully diverted campaign contributions to his own use. It said Dodd believes that his federal income tax returns fully reflected his taxable income.

Dodd reportedly received between $100,000 and $200,000 from testimonial dinners in 1961, 1963 and 1965 at which President Johnson and Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey were the principal speakers.

Controversy has developed over whether these were campaign funds or tax-free gifts to help Dodd meet the extra expenses of public office. The Internal Revenue Service is investigating the matter, first brought to attention by Pearson and Anderson.

Deaths and Funerals

Mrs. John Kilcoyne

Mrs. Jessie M. Abregg Kilcoyne, 75, of Smithfield, W. Va., mother of James F. Kilcoyne of Midland, was pronounced dead on arrival Friday at St. Marys Hospital in Clarksburg, W. Va. She had taken ill earlier at her home.

Mrs. Kilcoyne was born Oct. 25, 1890, in New Martinsville, W. Va.

She is survived by her husband, John V. Kilcoyne, at home; two daughters, Mrs. Robert (Margaret) Reppard of Wheeling and Mrs. Charles (Lorraine) Back of Cameron, W. Va.; another son, D. Jack Kilcoyne of Rockville, Md.; eight grandchildren, and 9 great-grandchildren.

The Palmer Funeral Home of Pine Grove, W. Va., is arranging services.

Mrs. Edward Harris

Services for Mrs. Katie Annie Harris of 878 State St., wife of the Rev. Edward H. Harris, pastor of the Second Baptist Church, will be held Tuesday at 11 a.m. at the church.

The Rev. L. C. Collins of Farrell, Pa., will officiate. Burial will be in Sharpsburg, Pa.

Mrs. Harris died Friday morning at City Hospital after a month's illness.

Friends may call at the Leavell Funeral Home in Midland Sunday and at the church Monday and up to the time of services Tuesday.

Mrs. Malcolm Bricker

Mrs. Mabel R. Bricker, 79, of Lisbon R. D. 4, wife of Malcolm H. Bricker, died Friday at 2:55 p.m. at the Salem Clinic, where she had been a patient three weeks.

She was born in Lisbon April 23, 1887, a daughter of the late Harvey Ruhl and Mary Ehrhart Ruhl. She had resided in the Lisbon area her lifetime. She was a member of the Lisbon First Presbyterian Church and the Lisbon Grange.

She also is survived by a sister, Mrs. Garrett Willis of Lisbon.

Services will be held Monday at 1:30 p.m. at the Henry Funeral Home in Lisbon by the Rev. Paul Gerrard. Burial will be in Lisbon Cemetery.

Friends may call at the funeral home Sunday from 2 to 4 and 7 to 9 p.m.

Lillian T. Crawford

Mrs. Lillian T. Crawford, 67, of 7 Thompson Pl., wife of Walter Crawford, died this morning at 9 a.m. at City Hospital, after a six-day illness.

She was born in Piney, W. Va., April 16, 1899, a daughter of the late John Noland and Nancy King Noland. She had resided in this vicinity for 21 years. She worked in the bisque warehouse at the former Edwin M. Knowles China Co., until 1948.

In addition to her husband, she is survived by three sons, Lester R. Davis, Carlos L. Davis and James W. Davis, all of East Liverpool; four daughters, Mrs. Garnet Russell of East Liverpool, Mrs. Nada B. Willey of Jacksonburg, W. Va., Mrs. Dolly M. George of Painesville, Ohio, and Mrs. Helen Kapostasy of Fairport, Ohio; two brothers, Robert Noland and Nelson Noland, both of Parkersburg, W. Va.; a sister, Mrs. Maggie Miller of Piney; 36 grandchildren, and 10 great-grandchildren.

Services will be held Tuesday at 10:30 a.m. at the Martin Funeral Home by the Rev. C. G. Schlosser, of the First Church of the Nazarene. Burial will be in Spring Grove Cemetery.

Friends may call at the funeral home Sunday and Monday afternoon and night.

enemy units, they were badly mauled."

American and Vietnamese casualties were officially described as light, although the percentage in some units were listed as moderate.

In the air war, hampered all week by monsoon rains over North Viet Nam, carrier-based U.S. Navy planes flew 26 missions Friday. They hit at highways, bridges, storage areas, railroad yards and river traffic mostly along the coast.

They claimed 19 junks destroyed and five more damaged, 24 barges destroyed and five damaged. In storage areas, the Navy fighter-bombers reported 41 structures destroyed and five damaged.

Also north of the 17th Parallel, U.S. Air Force fighter bombers flew 13 missions Friday, some of them in thunderstorms.

Among targets they reported hitting was a railroad yard 78 miles northwest of Hanoi and two radar sites 40 miles and 48 miles northwest of the Communist capital. Other targets included bridges, highways, a railroad yard and trucks in scattered areas.

The Air Force's delayed report on the dropping of two spans of a main bridge 25 miles northeast of Hanoi in a strike Thursday was made on the basis of photos by reconnaissance pilots.

Captain Glenn Nix, 28, of Tampa, Fla., was credited with unloading the bombs which hit the middle of the bridge's center span, causing two of the bridge's four spans to drop. The bridge, 435 feet long and 21 feet wide, had been attacked four times in late April.

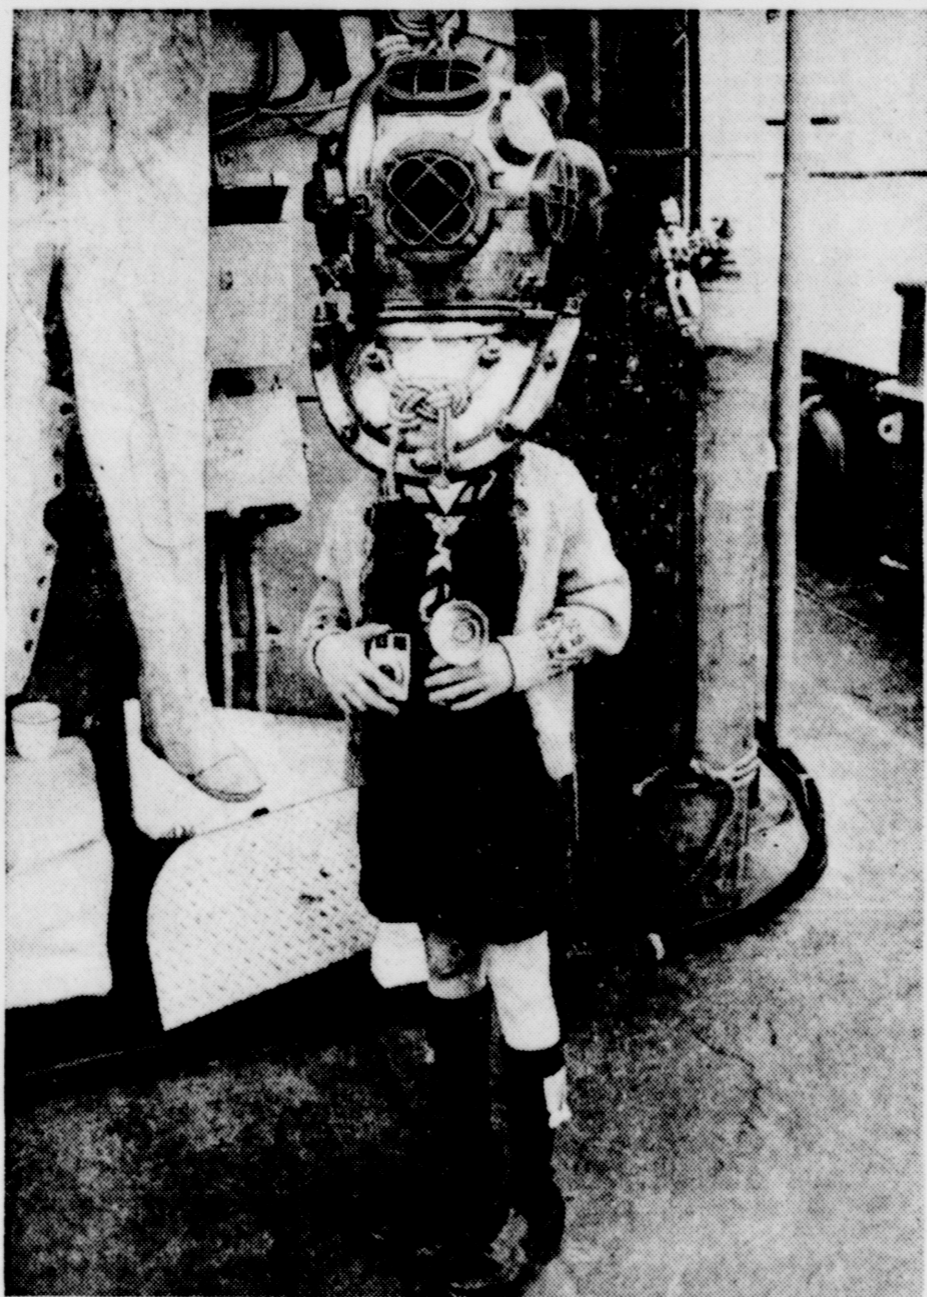

Air Force officers said wrecking of the bridge has hampered flow of supplies from China into Hanoi and that the Communists were having a hard time making by-pass routes.

Market

came, stocks reversed themselves and the Dow Jones industrial average ended the day with a rise of 3.06 instead of the loss of 10.41 it showed an hour before the close.

Even so, the Dow industrials declined this week by 30.85 to 902.83, the sharpest setback since the drop of 38.82 in the 1962 week.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks this week fell 12.0 to 331.8, its lowest level since the end of last August.

Trading conditions were turbulent at times. The ticker tape ran 23 minutes late Friday, the biggest delay in the improved ticker since it was put into use Dec. 1, 1964.

Volume of 48,021,680 shares was traded compared with 38.3 million the previous week. It was the largest since the record weekly turnover of 53.5 million in the week ended April 16.

Analysts agreed that statements by federal officials and ex-officials did much to create a pall of uncertainty over Wall Street. These statements, having to do with the anti-inflation drive and the question of possible tax increases, seemed to pose a threat to the business and financial community.

The market had one of its steepest drops Thursday in response to a statement by Gardner Ackley, President Johnson's chief economic adviser, questioning whether a further profits rise is in the national interest.

Federal Reserve Board Chairman William McChesney Martin was blamed by some for the Thursday retreat after he proposed a "simple, clean-cut, across-the-board increase in taxes."

The decline that day had a double-barreled impetus. The market was rising a little when news came that GM had cut back production at four auto assembly plants.

News that GM would resume full operations Monday had the opposite effect, rescuing prices from a dizzy decline.

The continual battering of stock prices left some people crying, brokers reported. Where would it end, the emotionally wrought-up asked as they saw profits vanish.

Hardest hit were the glamour stocks — the previous big winners in color television, other electronics, aerospace, airlines, science and the like.

As the week ended, Radio Corp., was off 7 1/2, Texas Gulf Sulphur 11 3/4, Eastern Airlines 12 3/4, Commercial Solvents 8 3/4 and Raytheon 5 1/4.

GM sank to a low of 86 Friday but recovered partially to 88 3/4 for a net gain of 3/4.

Robert H. Stovall, an analyst of E. F. Hutton & Co., said, "the market has been accident-prone all year. My forecast Jan. 1 was that we would have not one, but two or three 'crashettes' — of which this is No. 2."

Stovall thought the 1966 market might eventually find support around 875 in the Dow industrials. Other analysts looked for resistance to further decline.

Auto Safety

senger cars which average 14,000 parts each, and it is hardly surprising under these circumstances that imperfections crop up. Defects do occur."

Arjay R. Miller, president of Ford Motor Co., said in a similar letter to Ribicoff:

"Many of the campaigns in this report involved modifications intended to maintain or improve customer satisfaction. They had nothing to do with safety. They were made to correct problems such as water or dust leaks, wind noise, vibrations, loose ornaments, missing ash tray lights and malfunctioning clock cables."

Ribicoff said Roche telephoned him at his Washington office Friday to report that GM's 1966 model auto sales were running ahead of the 1965 model. He quoted Roche as saying that the autosafety talks were not responsible for an April drop in sales or for limited production cutbacks in four GM assembly plants this week.

A capsule summary of the four auto firm's reports to Sen. Ribicoff showed:

GENERAL MOTORS

In seven model years, GM had 171 recall campaigns which involved 4.8 million of the 23 million cars it built in that period. Many of the items were minor, but the list included such things as a potential fire hazard from a carburetor adjustment in the 1966 Oldsmobile. Some 1.8 million 1964 and 1965 Chevrolet division cars were called back for correction of a splash shield problem, but only 159,000 of the car owners have had the work done as yet, GM said.

FORD

Ford listed 184 recall campaigns, the biggest being the 257,000 Fords, Falcons, Fairlanes, Comets and Meteors recalled in 1963 because of an air cleaner problem. Ford said its list of callback items included some cases of defective brakes, pop-up hoods, tires or ignition that could cause safety problems. Sen. Ribicoff noted that one Ford recall letter sent out in July 1965, urged return of 5,500 Comets for inspection of a potential brake tube abrasion, but he said the Ford letter gave no indication that a safety hazard was involved.

CHRYSLER

Chrysler said it had 24 recall campaigns which involved a checkup on about one million of the 7.5 million cars built since 1960. The firm is involved in one of the most recent callbacks. It started last week a campaign to recall 182,000 of its 1966 Dodge, Coronets and Belvederes because of loose nuts in the front suspension assembly. Sen. Ribicoff said he had asked Chrysler for more data.

AMERICAN MOTORS

AMC said that in 47 recall campaigns since 1960 it had corrected about 92 per cent of the 759,744 cars involved. AMC said that in one of its most recent cases in October 1965, it had telephoned dealers warning of a defect in the steering wheels of 5,970 Ramblers. It said all the cars were located and that the defect was confirmed and corrected in 5,871 cars.

Ribicoff told his news conference: "I have not tried to be inflammatory, but rather have tried to act responsibly." He said he would turn the auto reports over to Secretary of Commerce John Connor for evaluation.

5 Sky Divers, Pilot Killed In Air Crash

POTTSTOWN, Pa. (AP) — Five sky-diving parachute jumpers and their pilot were killed today when their plane crashed on a farm field seven miles north of Pottstown shortly after takeoff from the New Hanover Airport for a sky-diving meet.

Another sky diver leaped from the disabled plane as it spun earthward, jumping from an altitude of 300 feet and landing safely.

One of those killed also jumped but his chute apparently tangled in the tail assembly and failed to inflate. He crashed within 35 feet of the burning wreckage of the Howard plane, a high-winged single-engine monoplane.

Why Help Them Out?

From a purely political standpoint, Barry M. Goldwater has done his opponents a favor by teeing off on Sen. Fulbright of Arkansas for speaking out about Viet Nam. Mr. Goldwater says Sen. Fulbright should resign as chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee.

The dilemma of Viet Nam is a fiasco in Democratic policy making and the responsibility should be kept squarely on the Democratic administration.

Sen. Fulbright is an important official in the Democratic majority organization of the U.S. Senate. The chairmanship of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee is a key post. The man who holds it is responsible for keeping alive the continuing debate by which foreign policy is shaped in the United States.

Sen. Fulbright's decision to speak out in criticism of his own party leadership is an intra-party situation.

TO BE SURE, it is potentially the strongest campaign argument the Republican opposition may have in 1968 and certain to be harmful to the Democrats this year.

But as far as the politics of the moment is concerned, Republicans should listen to Sen. Fulbright with the greatest attentiveness because he is developing what could be a winning campaign issue for them.

It must be assumed the Republican presidential candidate of 1964 has teed off on Sen. Fulbright as a private citizen, with no thought to his role as the 1964 Republican presidential candidate.

He could not have made a greater blunder as party spokesman than to nib into an opposition situation that will be politically helpful to Republican candidates next November and two years from next November.

IT ALWAYS is puzzling to know who speaks with authority for the party out of power. In the case of the fragmented Republican party at this time, it must be acknowledged that no one speaks about Viet Nam with authority—not its 1964 presidential candidate, not Sen. Dirksen of Illinois, minority leader in the upper house of Congress, certainly not Rep. Gerald R. Ford, minority leader in the lower house, not Richard M. Nixon, not Dwight D. Eisenhower, not Nelson A. Rockefeller. They all have different opinions.

But on the majority side of government, there is one official opinion about Viet Nam—President Johnson's — and one semi-official opinion—Sen. Fulbright's.

Why not let them thresh it out between themselves?

Why help them out of the hot water John F. Kennedy pushed them into with his impulsive decision to move in where the French had failed in Southeast Asia?

Newark Election

Voters in Newark, N.J., elect a new Mayor and City Council on Tuesday.

Mathematically, Newark could become the first major city in the United States to see the White Establishment replaced by a Black Establishment. It must be admitted from the start that the figures are glum but a clear trend toward Negro political power is shown.

Washington, D.C. is supposed to be the only major city in the country with a Negro majority, but Newark's police director, Dominick A. Spina, has put the Negro population of his city at 52 per cent. The figure in the 1960 census was 34 per cent. One civil rights group maintains that Newark is 65 per cent nonwhite. Mayor Hugh J. Addonizio, who is running for reelection, estimates that Newark is 40 to 45 per cent Negro. Negroes comprised 42 per cent of the city's turnout in the national election of 1964.

WHAT HAPPENS in Newark could well set a pattern for other cities. Negroes in 1960 made up more than 20 per cent of the central cities of the 24 metropolitan areas having a million or more residents. The other cities were Atlanta, 38 per cent Negro; Baltimore, 35; Chicago, 24; Cincinnati, 22; Cleveland, 29; Detroit, 29; Houston, 23; Philadelphia, 27; St. Louis, 29 and Washington, 55.

As acknowledged earlier, these figures are undependable. They do not allow for what has happened in the past 5½ years — a continuing migration to Northern cities by Negroes of the South and a concomitant movement to the suburbs by middle class whites. Moreover, their very accuracy is suspect. Census takers are scarcely more courageous than the rest of us; they shy away from tough areas. And people huddled in substandard housing tend to under-

Life With Mother

Everyone is squaring off for Mother's Day, each according to his special circumstances.

One special circumstance in our family is the age of the mother we honor. She will be 95 next December.

She is as fiercely determined now as she was when, as a teen-ager, she decided to acquire advanced education and thereby became the first female member of her family to attend college. She did this on her own.

Her attitude toward advanced learning spurred her own children to learn to read and write at an advanced level.

That led, in turn, to still more advanced learning in the grandson generation. This is one of our special circumstances when we square off for Mother's Day. She spurred us on.

Another special circumstance is our mother's dauntless independence. She continues to be as self-reliant today as she was in the prime of her life. She never babied us.

She keeps house for herself, does her own shopping, and on a recent occasion surprised her family by preparing dinner for them because she thought it would be more fun than going to a restaurant. She told us to do things for ourselves.

To the best of her ability, she still keeps up with the news of the day and current events in her own sphere of life and forms and defends bristling opinions on all topics that come to her attention. She made us be concerned.

She wears clothes that would do justice to a well-dressed woman half her age, and when she was two-thirds of the age she is now she could pass for a matron in her mid-thirties. My mother is a sartorial cat.

The entire family relies on her memory for names and dates and her capacity for keeping things straight will be called into play this Mother's Day on an inquiry from a distant relative about a family tree — not her family, either, it so happens. No transfer here, unfortunately.

She resents the infirmities that have befallen her — failing eyesight, faulty hearing, arthritis. But she has not given in to them singly or collectively. And that is another special circumstance. We honor her for never giving up.

This remarkable woman never has been seriously ill. She never has undergone surgery. Nothing ever has broken down or frayed out.

Mother's Day tributes are mostly concerned with gingham aprons, ginger cookies, songs at twilight, dark till dawn toil, loving care — that sort of thing.

By Richard Spong

report the actual number of people living there for fear of eviction.

FOR A NUMBER of reasons, the Newark aspect is not black-and-white but variously grey. Newark's Negroes were perhaps Addonizio's strongest backers when he defeated Mayor Edward Carlin four years ago. Carlin is running again, and Addonizio says Carlin's the man to beat.

The chief bidder for the Negro mayoral vote is Kenneth Gibson, an engineer and a newcomer to politics. Addonizio says he knows more Negroes personally than Gibson — and a good many of these work on city jobs as Addonizio appointees.

The race for City Council is equally fractioned. Only one Negro, Irvine Turner of the Central Ward, is an incumbent. Three of the city's other four wards are expected to return white members. But four others are elected at large. Thus Newark's lawmaking body could seat a Negro majority of five or six.

Andrew Washington, a young school teacher and Congress of Racial Equality (CORE) leader, is perhaps the most articulate of the Negro candidates. His problem is that at least six of the other 20 council candidates are Negroes with more money to spend and more political experience.

Newark tends to vote on pretty straight ethnic lines, with Addonizio adding the Italo-American vote to his Negro strength. Addonizio on balance has a fairly solid record on housing and industrial development, and he can boast that the city got $35 million in federal funds last year.

If he can maintain his Negro support, Addonizio looks headed for another term. But the racial trend continues, and the white power structure is threatened severely.

By Truman Twill

We had those, but they never seemed to be of major importance. What loomed larger was the personality of a remarkable woman who never let adversity break her spirit and is still battering away at the dad-blasted opposition in her 95th year. She isn't bringing up hay-makers from the floor any more, but she still has that good left jab and a crackling right cross to the jaw. She taught us how to fight.

Sing-Sing

Bird - of - paradise plumes are the uniform of the day at a New Guinea spectacular called the sing-sing.

Some 70,000 tribesmen take part in an annual jamboree of singing and dancing on the mountainous island in the southwest Pacific.

The setting for this year's sing - sing is Goroka, a small town nestled among the jumbled ranges and lofty green valleys of New Guinea's eastern highlands.

The prospect of cavorting and feasting for two days attracts natives from remote villages that still suggest the Stone Age. Clad only in loin cloths, some walk for more than a week through roadless mountains to reach the festival. Precious bird - of - paradise plumes are carried in pandanus - leaf cases with all the care Westerners would give family heirlooms.

For the sing-sing, tribesmen lavish attention on personal adornment. The men disappear into the forest and spend hours painting intricate designs on their faces and arranging their bird-of-paradise headdresses.

Odd Facts

A man needs a seventh of a second to wink his eye on purpose, but when an insect darts toward someone's eye, it snaps shut by reflex in a third of that time.

Pound for pound, the sun actually produces less heat than the human body. Only because the sun is so huge is its total production of energy so enormous.

Next to domestic fowl, starlings and house sparrows represent the largest population segment of the world's 100 billion birds.

Giant panda bears, despite their gentle appearance, don't flourish in captivity. Only eight are known to live in zoos scattered around the globe — four in Communist China, one in England, one in Russia and two in Korea.

Labor Gags On $100 Dinners

By Victor Riesel

A letter recently dispatched to the Democrats' congressional fund-raising dinner committee by one of the land's most influential labor leaders said:

1. His big construction union was not going to buy any $100-a-plate tickets.

2. "By the way what has the Democratic party done for us lately?"

This irked the dinner chairman. But he replied politely that he was happy to learn that the labor leaders were going to contribute their money directly to their Committee on Political Education (COPE), "which will go to the Democrats anyway."

Then he asked, "By the way, what has the Republican party done for you, ever?"

This exchange is part of the "dialogue" now sputtering between the national labor chiefs and the modus operandi men at the Democratic National Committee and congressional money-raising groups now facing a poverty war of their own.

When, for example, Jess Larson, chairman of the Democrats' congressional fund-raising dinner, wrote to the AFL-CIO national office asking for reservations for the May 12 banquet in the District of Columbia Armory, labor president George Meany sent word from his New York's Harkness Pavilion hospital bed that there would be no dinner ticket purchases this year. Last year the AFL-CIO alone took two tables. Scores of leaders of other unions also attended.

DEMOCRATS WHO LATER got a "contract" to cool off the angry labor chiefs were told that this time the labor federation was not going to discount its money with "whisky and steaks."

If it wanted to contribute to a political nominee, it would give all the money directly to the candidate of labor's choice. That labor was going to be "more choosy" this time was the coupe de grace.

Labor, of course, is angry at the Congress, mostly the Senate, for killing the repeal of 14B — a repealer which would have prevented the states from banning the union shop.

So, say the union leaders, who go to Democratic fund-raising dinners? Why throw the money into a central pot from which "will be ladled money to candidates who are against everything for which we stand?"

Instead the money will be funneled directly into the campaign chests of nominees in both parties — so long as they are liberals.

THUS LABOR'S POLITICAL ACTION chiefs this year will throw their support behind such Republicans as Maine's Margaret Chase Smith, Kentucky's John Sherman Cooper and New Jersey's Clifford Case, regardless of who runs against them for the U.S. Senate.

This means the "whole bit," said a spokesman for CORE—movies, manpower, money, car pools, doorbell ringers — "everything we have, even if they are Republicans."

Victor Riesel

All through the dialogue, it's made clear that there is no feud with President Johnson.

Those labor men who dined with him at the White House May 3 made that amply clear to the President and their old lawyer, Ambassador Arthur Goldberg.

Nor was this the first time they've told this to "Arthur." They go to his Waldorf Tower suite quite regularly and have ample time to talk of matters to pass on to the President.

They were there a few nights ago, ostensibly for a briefing on Viet Nam. These were the labor leaders of the Liberal party.

IN THE LAST FEW WEEKS some have spent as much as 90 minutes to two hours with Mr. Johnson quite privately and off the record.

This feud is with the Democratic National Committee and its affiliates.

The labor men are not angry with Sen. Warren Magnuson personally but with "Maggie," chairman of the Senate Democratic campaign committee.

Not all of the anger has been provoked by the repealer failure.

The labor men believe they've been cast aside by the "machine Democrats." They complain that, since Larry O'Brien and George Reedy have left the White House, they have difficulty getting to the President because he does not learn of their calls or gripes.

They complain they do not have even a working contact with the Democratic National Committee itself.

So the national offices of many big unions refused to buy the $100-a-plate tickets. They'll put their money into defeating Democrats as well as Republicans.

Their war cry will be: "Beat the conservatives, regardless of label." "Vote the man, not the party."

EDITOR OF THE REVIEW

I also would like to welcome the Ohio Brass Co. I am a graduate of Oak Glen High School, who feels that our area certainly needs a new enterprise to keep it going.

The area which was once alive with factories and commerce is gradually becoming less and less significant. Most students graduating from area high schools have no intention of staying in the communities. But with the coming of a new factory and with a possible hope of more, the area may be able to get on its feet again and grow to the size it should be.

Too many people, especially town officials, turn their backs on new industry, trying to avoid anything new. But the coming of the Ohio Brass Co. is a sign of life renewed to a seemingly dead area.

Red Victory

By David Lawrence

De Gaulle's Stand Jolts Allies

The biggest victory the Soviet Union has won in the "cold war" has just been made possible by President de Gaulle of France with the announcement which means, in effect, that the entire plan for the defense of Western Europe by the United States and its allies now must be discarded. It could conceivably forecast a victory, too, for the aggressors someday in a "hot war" in which nuclear weapons are not used but land armies once more overrun Western Europe.

The French government's order declaring that the United David Lawrence States and its allies will not be permitted hereafter to count on a continuing right to fly military planes over French territory will certainly disrupt existing plans for the defense of the Continent.

Strangely enough, although Gen. De Gaulle has violated the North Atlantic Treaty, no word of disapproval on that point has been uttered at Washington. Yet the treaty carries an explicit agreement that the United States shall come instantly to the defense of France if the latter is attacked. With no American troops in France and an inability to rely on the French army or navy or air force in any integrated plan for the defense of Europe, retaliatory action cannot be effectively carried out at once against an aggressor, as was contemplated by the original treaty.

GEN. DE GAULLE is planning to visit Moscow June 20. He has served notice already that he will not allow NATO forces to use any military bases in France. This undoubtedly was received with rejoicing inside the Kremlin, for it clearly means that the entire concept of Allied defense in Europe no longer is suitable.

Not only is it impracticable from a strategic, tactical or logistic point of view to count on French aid now, but doubts are raised also as to whether missiles fired from Polaris submarines along the coast would be regarded as breaking the rule if they pass over French territory to reach an enemy destination beyond.

There's some question, too, as to whether American naval vessels are ever going to be able to use French ports. Incidentally, it has just been announced that a Soviet warship has been invited by President De Gaulle to pay an unprecedented visit to a NATO port in France, May 29.

Without a network of land bases and with naval operations along the seacoast inhibited, the NATO apparatus for communication which must be maintained through radar and other methods is paralyzed by the latest French prohibition.

ORIGINALLY THE UNITED STATES entered into the NATO pact in order to serve notice that it would not wait a year or two before deciding whether to come to the aid of Europe, but would instantly respond whenever an attack occurred. With France virtually pulling out of NATO, the whole strategic situation is changed.

Up to now, a cautious policy has been pursued in the United States. Such expressions of disapproval as have been made have come from minor officials. The United States has not, outwardly at least, expressed its dismay that France would violate the spirit, if not the letter, of the NATO Treaty and join, in effect, with the Communist nations instead of with those countries of the free world which have twice befriended France and saved that republic from complete destruction.

Gen. de Gaulle's policy has not been formulated suddenly. Ever since 1959 he has been hinting at a gradual withdrawal from the Western Alliance. The assumption has been that he really would never go that far.

HE NOW IS COMING CLOSE to a break-up, and the realistic fact is that the United States must undergo what has often been called an "agonizing reappraisal." It must decide whether Europe can best be defended by assisting West Germany to become a greater military power or whether America should abstain and let Europe run the risk of being overrun someday by the Communists.

American business and economic affairs are so closely intertwined with Europe's that there is a natural hesitation to cause any schisms among Western European governments but Gen. De Gaulle has brought about a crisis. It must be determined soon exactly how Europe can really be defended in the future and whether the United States is to be prevented by France's obstructive policies from coming to the aid of European countries in time to save them from another holocaust.

Sunken W. Va. Boat Due Up Next Week

PITTSBURGH (AP) — The "Mary Alice" will be up soon, up from the bottom of the Monongahela River.

The U.S. Army Corps of Engineers said Friday West Virginia's sunken towboat will be surfaced from its resting place near Point Marion, Pa., late next week or early the following week.

The boat has been sunk since February and the engineers said they aren't sure what will happen to it after it is raised.

West Virginia, which used the "Mary Alice" to push the showboat "Rhododendron" during the state's centennial in 1963, has disclaimed any responsibility for the boat.

Schreibers To Attend Services At Madison Arthur Schreiber, director of news for the Westinghouse Corp., and his mother, Mrs. V. A. Schreiber, will be among those attending Mother's Day services Sunday at the Madison Presbyterian Church.

Schreiber is the son of the late Rev. V. A. Schreiber, pastor of the Madison church from 1933-1942 and one-time mayor of East Liverpool.

The public is invited to the services.

PTA Hears Beaver Aide

Mrs. C. W. Lewis of Aliquippa, Beaver County Parent-Teacher Association program chairman, discussed the "Duties of PTA Officers" during an installation service of 7th St. School PTA officers Thursday.

Installed were: President, Mrs. Frank Gula; vice president, Mrs. Ross Hurst; secretary, Mrs. Bill Yee; treasurer, Mrs. Joe Yee, and historian, Mrs. Angelo Migliore.

Mrs. James Morrison, Mrs. Jack Balser and Mrs. Joseph D'Itri were appointed to the auditing committee.

Mrs. Eric Harriel, retiring president, presided. Mrs. Robert Stillwagon led the salute to the flag and the singing of "America" and Mrs. Robert Dawson gave the invocation.

Five members of the group were asked to serve as registrars during the Health - O - Rama scheduled for the Northern Lights Shopping Center May 26-28.

Mrs. Harriel announced kindergarten parties will be held on May 27 from 9 to 11 a. m. and 1 to 3 p. m.

Chaperones are needed for the school picnic at Idora Park, Youngstown, June 1 from 1 to 6 p. m. Round-trip bus tickets are available only at 4th St. School.

Tickets for amusement rides may be purchased at each school and at Gamble's Drugstore, Ernie's Pharmacy and Bahm's Pharmacy and at Robertson's Market.

Tickets will go on sale Monday and may be purchased until 1 p. m. May 31.

Anyone desiring to serve as a chaperone may contact Mrs. Jack Balser.

A social time followed the meeting, with Mrs. Steve Vojnovich and Mrs. Arthur Castelli serving as co-chairmen in charge of the hospitality table. Refreshments were donated by the third-grade mothers.

Special Services Set At Wellsville

The Sunday services at the Wellsville First Church of the Nazarene will feature special Mother's Day programs.

Roy Duffield will present a harmonica solo at the 9:45 a. m. Sunday School, with Mrs. Geneva Parsons, superintendent, in charge. The mother bringing in the most people will be presented a gift.

Music at the 10:45 a. m. worship will be presented by Mrs. Nancy Ludlam and Mrs. Wilana Culp.

Mrs. Rome Prescott will sing at the 7:30 p. m. service.

Flowers To Be Given Mothers By Church

In observance of Mother's Day, flowers will be given to mothers who attend the 10:45 a. m. services Sunday at the Etruria St. Church of God.

Special recognition will be given the mother with the largest family, the oldest mother and the mother with the youngest child present.

Amelia Bird of Edinburg, Ohio, will be the speaker during the morning service and at the 7:45 p. m. service. The public is invited.

Schreibers To Attend Services At Madison

Arthur Schreiber, director of news for the Westinghouse Corp., and his mother, Mrs. V. A. Schreiber, will be among those attending Mother's Day services Sunday at the Madison Presbyterian Church.

Schreiber is the son of the late Rev. V. A. Schreiber, pastor of the Madison church from 1933-1942 and one-time mayor of East Liverpool.

The public is invited to the services.

Course Of Instruction Set For Young People

A course of instruction on premarital planning and sex education for high school seniors and post-high young people will begin Sunday at 7:30 p. m. in the social rooms of the First Methodist Church.

The sessions will be held for four consecutive Sundays at the church.

High school seniors and post-high young people of East Liverpool and the area are invited to hear Dr. R. H. Sales, chaplain and head of the Department of Religion and Philosophy at Mt. Union College, discuss the attitudes, influences and problems of young adults.

He has conducted a similar course for students at Mt. Union.

Dr. Sales is an ordained Methodist minister and has held offices in educational and religious organizations. He attended Wofford College and received an A.B. degree in 1942 at Hendrix College, a B.D. degree in 1946 at Duke Divinity School and a Ph.D. degree in 1952 at the Duke Graduate School of Arts and Sciences.

He was assistant professor of religion at Duke and joined the Mt. Union College faculty in September 1960.

In 1963 he was named the college's first chaplain and in the position he plans the weekly chapel service programs, coordinates student religious activities and provides religious counseling services.

DR. R. H. SALES

Will Conduct Course Here.

He received the Mt. Union College Alumni Council Great Teachers Award in 1963. He holds membership in the Society of Biblical Literature and Exegesis, the National Association of Biblical Instructors and the American Association of University Professors.

He is married to the former Elenore Lee Cutlip. They have two children, Brian and Cathy, and make their home in Alliance.

The Rev. Allen R. Conway is the host pastor.

Revival Services To Begin Sunday At Congo Church

The Congo Church of the Nazarene near Newell will launch its spring evangelistic campaign Sunday. The services will continue through May 15.

The Rev. Paul Brookes, president of the Hollow Rock Camp and pastor of the Emmanuel Mission near Chester, will be the speaker. He is widely known as an evangelist and as a singer in the area.

The Rev. Walter D. Speece, pastor, said the local talent will be featured in the musical phase of the program, guest singers being unable to appear because of an auto accident.

A special Mother's Day program is planned during the Sunday School hour tomorrow. Mothers present will receive a potted plant, with one being accorded special recognition.

Youth, Adult Groups To Hear Mills Sunday

William H. Mills, minister of the Greenford Christian Church, will speak to the youth groups of the Chester First Christian Church Sunday at 6:30 p. m. and to the adults during the 7:30 p. m. service.

He and his wife are directors of the television program "Uncle Bill's Bible Club House," seen every Saturday at 1:30 p. m. over WKBN in Youngstown.

They present God's word in various ways over television, including puppet skits, dramas, stories, games, contests and devotionals. The Rev. Robert H. Schondelmayer is pastor.

Special Services Set By Lutherans

Ronald Rodemach of Wartburg Seminary in Dubuque, Iowa, will conduct services Sunday at the Ohio View Lutheran Church in Industry.

Clothing for Lutheran World Relief is being collected at the church until Saturday when it will be packaged by members of the Luther League. Newspapers and magazines also will be accepted.

Church members are invited to attend adult fellowship classes each Sunday at 9:45 a. m. The topic this Sunday will be "The Church Life of Prayer."

Altar flowers have been provided by the Arthur Wessel family in honor of his mother, Mrs. W. C. Wessel, on her 89th birthday.

Steve Hazy will head the ushers for May and Richard Stephens the acolytes.

The church council met Tuesday night in the study. Wessel, vice president, presided.

Wool production in the U. S. last year was 237 million pounds, down 4 per cent from the 247 million pounds produced in 1964.

A MOMENT OF MEDITATION

THE SABBATH OR THE LORD'S DAY?

The Bible may be properly divided into the Old Testament and the New Testament. Both are the Word of God but they are directed to different people. The old Testament was directed to the Jews but the New is directed to all people today whether Jew or Gentile. In our last article we established the fact that God took away the first law in order that He might establish the second, Heb. 10:9.

A part of the Old Testament law was the command that the sabbath be remembered and kept holy. The sabbath day was the seventh day. Ex. 20:10. The Jewish nation was commanded to remember the sabbath day as a memorial of God's delivering them out of the bondage of Egypt. Deut. 5:15. "And remember that thou wast a servant in the land of Egypt, and that the Lord thy God brought thee out thence through a mighty hand and by a stretched out arm; therefore the Lord thy God commanded thee to keep the sabbath day." Thus, the sabbath observance was a national holiday that God commanded.

There is difference among religious people today over this matter. Some claim that they are still observing the sabbath as God gave it and some are observing the first day of the week. What is the reason for this difference? The answer can be seen in the fact that some are trying to bind today the law that God removed.

None will deny that God at one time commanded that the seventh day be observed but this law is not now binding on people who are under the New Testament. The New Testament law teaches that the disciples met on the first day of the week for their worship. Acts 20:7. This is the law that God has given for all people today. The sabbath was a national holiday for the Jewish nation but the observance of the first day of the week is a part of the Law of Christ for all people.

It has been claimed by some that the change from the seventh day to the first was a change that man made in God's law. This could not be true. Man has no right to change God's law. No man or group of men has the right to change God's law. God changed His law. Heb. 7:12. The disciples, under the law of Christ, met on the first day of the week, 1 Cor. 16:1,2.

To be consistent, if I want to take the sabbath from the Old Law and make it binding today, I must also contend for the burning of incense and animal sacrifice. Paul teaches in Gal. 5:14 that if we teach that any of the law is binding today under Christ, we are debtor to do the whole law.

Friends, use the first day of the week as the early disciples did. It is the Lord's Day. Use it for worship to God. Do not try to bind a law that God has taken out of the way. Tomorrow is the first day of the week. Will it find you in worship to God? You are cordially invited to attend.

4-H News

Plans for the annual 4-H horse show were discussed during a meeting of the Flying Hooves 4-H Saddle Club Wednesday at the home of Mrs. Rose Littell of Scott's Lane, New Cumberland.

The show will be held June 12 at the Ivan-Dale Farms, on State Route 2, with 4-H members of the area invited to attend.

A brief business meeting was conducted by Cathy Virden, president. The group sang "West Virginia Boys and Girls" and repeated the 4-H pledge. Devotions were led by Ann Higgenbottom.

A talk, "Care of the Horse's Hooves," was given by Richard Jones.

A training session will be held at the home of Mrs. Skip Dornan, leader, on Tuesday. The next regular meeting will be June 6.

First Tire Case
 DEFIANCE, Ohio (AP) — James E. Davidson, 21, of Dayton, is the first person to be charged under a new city ordinance here aimed at motorists who make their tires squeal in sharp turns or fast starts. His case is heading for a test soon in Municipal Court.

Officers Chosen By Mothers Unit At Midland High
 Mrs. Grover Epley was chosen to succeed Mrs. Jack Haggerty as president of the Midland Mothers Athletic Association when the group met Thursday night at Lincoln High School.

Also elected to serve for the coming year were Mrs. Norman Vanlier, vice president; Mrs. Steve Vranich, secretary, and Mrs. Harry Humbert, treasurer.

The new officers will be installed by Mrs. Haggerty during the all-sports banquet sponsored by the Midland Mothers on May 22 at 6 p.m. The place and speaker will be announced.

Banquet committees were appointed at Thursday's meeting. Mrs. Epley will serve as general chairman and Mrs. Thomas Wuchina as chairman in charge of reservations.

Varsity and junior high basketball co-chairmen for the banquet are Mrs. Vanlier and Mrs. Resden Samuels. Other chairmen are: football, Mrs. Alfred Monaco; golf, Mrs. William Marcum; baseball, Mrs. Vranich; track, Mrs. Wuchina, and cheerleaders, Mrs. Humbert.

New Hope Plans Special Program
 A Mother's Day program will be featured at the New Hope Baptist Church Sunday at 3 p.m. under auspices of the Mothers Board, with Mrs. Julia Brown president.

A gift and a carnation will be presented the oldest mother present and a memorial tribute will be held for a deceased member.

Mrs. Marion Lewis of Wellsville will be guest speaker and the mass choir will sing. The program also will include special solos and appropriate readings. The Rev. R. L. Latimore is pastor.

Miss Jean Darling Will Speak In Wellsville.

Miss Jean Darling, a missionary in India, will be in charge of the rally of the East Liverpool zone of the Church of the Nazarene Monday at 7:30 at the Wellsville church.

The zone includes the East Liverpool First Church, LaCrosse, Gardendale, Wellsville, Chestnut Grove, Stratton, Toronto, Steubenville, Brilliant and O's age churches. Jerry Turner is zone chairman.

Miss Darling is home on furlough, her third since being assigned to India in 1945 by the denomination.

She was born in Ontario, Canada, and received her registered nursing degree from Victoria Hospital, London, Ontario, in 1941. In 1943 she enrolled in the Canadian Nazarene College, majoring in Bible.

She will describe the work of the church in India, with special attention being given to the medical program. Color slides will be included.

The Rev. Clark Allison is host pastor.

Open House Set At Center
 Open house will be held Sunday from 1 to 5 p.m. at the recently completed Extended Care Center, 430 W. 5th St.

Dr. William L. Gilmore is the administrator.

The center will provide nursing, convalescent and rehabilitation care and will employ the latest devices for exercising, Dr. Gilmore said.

Dr. Gilmore and his wife, Dr. Edith Gilmore, are co-owners.

The center will maintain some 25 nurses on permanent duty to care for a maximum of 50 patients.

Further plans call for adding another story to the building when a sufficient quota of patients has been admitted, Dr. Gilmore said.

The Potters Lumber Co. was the general contractor, construction having begun about nine months ago.

800 Attend Festival Of Wellsville Pupils
 More than 800 attended the annual music festival of Wellsville Public Schools Friday night at Beacom Memorial gymnasium. The theme was "Happy Holidays."

The boys and girls who participated were attired in costumes depicting national holidays.

Mrs. Louise Lawton, music supervisor, was in charge and also was the accompanist. She was assisted by faculty members.

Action Needed To Improve Appearance

Beauty Spots Of The Tri-State Area

By GLENN WAIGHT
Review News Editor

RUSTY BEDSPRINGS, junked cars, boxes bulging with trash, paper and cellophane wrappers scattered along sidewalks, bottles and crumpled beer cans, weeds, rags . . .

All the debris of a careless civilization is heaped in offensive eyesores at many sites across the Tri-State District.

Construction of new highways and redevelopment of such areas as E. 3rd St. have helped eliminate many of the decrepit buildings which marred the city's appearance in past years.

And the growing trend of the homeowner and business operator to modernize and improve his

The East Liverpool Chamber of Commerce has launched not only a May Clean-Up Drive, but is aiming at a consistent program of encouraging improvement and neatness all year long. "Yellow Letters" are being sent to owners of property which is substandard in appearance or safety.

The city planning commission is studying a neighborhood beautification plan, such as that of the Sunnyside group which has organized to improve its district. The Columbiana County Commissioners are enforcing dumping regulations, and have spurred the clean-up of one village.

Council is considering ordinances concerning junked autos and sidewalk maintenance. A number of other municipalities and townships are reviewing controls on rubbish and trash.

THE CLUTTER AND MESS of urban and suburban areas is a part of the complex problems of modern living which range from juvenile delinquency, water and air pollution, traffic congestion, the out-of-city flight of population, school financing and other matters which face 1966 citizens.

The solution lies in part with the individual and in part with the governmental agencies which have responsibility for planning, providing services and enforcing the laws.

If each individual insures that his own home, his own job environment, his own neighborhood is kept clean and orderly, the first step has been taken toward the beautification of America which not only the Johnsons of Washington, D. C., hope comes to pass.

If the city, township and county governments meet their responsibilities in the related areas of service and enforcement, the second step has been taken.

IF THE BUSINESSES, industries and civic and social groups which have similar responsibilities for property maintenance and encouraging improved community appearance take action, the final step would have been accomplished.

The Review displays some of the trash-strewn roadsides, street scenes and so-called "public nuisances," as termed by city officials, which exist in this district in the hope these conditions and others like them will be corrected.

We intend to show with photographs examples of carelessness and neglect in later editions, because we feel the efforts for renewal, industrial development, modernization and beautification should not be hampered by eyesores and health and safety menaces.

The Review urges a cooperative, concentrated campaign to stamp out ugliness.

properties has added to the betterment of the downtown sections and residential areas of most of our communities.

But there still remain too many locations where dilapidated structures are health and safety menaces, where rubbish is permitted to gather in unsightly piles, where weeds grown uncontrolled, where store fronts have fallen in squalid disrepair, where unpainted shacks have blotted an otherwise pleasant neighborhood.

In East Liverpool, Wellsville, Midland, Chester and every town and village in the district and in the suburban areas and farm lands there are these blighted sores of neglect, just as they are in every state across the nation.

MAY IS THE annual season of clean-up, fix-up, paint-up, the period of early spring when the hopes of civic leaders, Chambers of Commerce and municipal officials rise in anticipation of making a grassy, spotless, newly-colored community where government employee, private citizen, merchant and industrialist accept the challenge of the season.

Unfortunately, the annual clean-up too often becomes a mere brushing off of the dirt, a lax shifting of the debris from one hole to another, waiting for the lush greenery of summer to hide all.

However, there is indication that a sensitivity to this needless violation of nature and beauty is growing in our area.

By HARRY STEWART
Review Staff Member

WEST VIRGINIA'S first spring turkey season opens Monday for a week.

The season is open in 11 state public hunting areas and forests, with no hunting allowed on National Forest lands or private property.

The areas open are Cal Price State Forest, Seneca State Forest and Williams River Public Hunting Area (all in Pocahontas County); Coopers Rock State Forest (Monongalia and Preston Counties); Fork Creek Public Hunting Area (Boone County); Greenbrier State Forest (Greenbrier County); Kumbrow State Forest (Randolph County); Lewis Wetzel Public Hunting Area (Wetzel County); Nathaniel Mt. and Short Mt. Public Hunting Areas (Hampshire County), and Sleepy Creek Public Hunting Area (Berkeley and Morgan Counties).

The shooting hours are from 5:30 to 10 a. m. daily, with no hunters allowed in the woods after 11 a. m.

The bag limit is one bearded turkey. No electronic calling devices or dogs may be used.

KINGS CREEK, Tomlinson Run Lake and Tomlinson Run in Hancock County have received another stocking of fish.

West Virginia boaters are reminded a 1966 license is required before their craft can be put into the water. The license applications for new or un-registered boats can be obtained from county clerks, designated marine supply stores or by writing to License Section, Department of Natural Resources, State Capitol, Charleston, W. Va., 25305.

CAMPING AREAS have opened in Ohio, West Virginia and Pennsylvania and already are being put to good use.

State park attendance in Ohio during March was more than 50 per cent ahead of the same month last year, while total park attendance for the fiscal year that ended March 31 was 11 per cent ahead of the same period the previous year.

In Ohio all 49 state parks are kept open the year around, not only for camping, but for all phases of recreation.

The name of Clear Fork State Park in Ashland County near Loudonville has been changed to Mohican Park because of the confusion with a reservoir area of the same name and another park with the same name.

Muskingum Conservancy District regional parks at Pleasant Hill, Atwood, Tappan and Seneca Lakes have been opened to the public without charge for sightseeing, hiking, and picnicking until May 28 when swimming beaches, refreshments stands and all other facilities will begin operation and the regular park service charge will be put into effect.

AREA FARMERS AND ROAD WORKERS are reminded about the spring pheasant hatch and caution should be used in mowing operations.

Conservationists say the peak hatch will be between June 6 and 25. Nearly 60 per cent of the nests that hatch during this three week period will do so between June 10 and June 20.

Areas known to contain nest concentrations should be mowed last and the cutting should begin in the center of large

A special teal hunting permit is required in addition to the regular hunting license and waterfowl stamp. The permits are issued free of charge.

Application for teal permits will be received from June 15 through Aug. 19 by the Ohio Division of Wildlife.

Anyone interested should send a card with his name, address and county to Teal Permit, Division of Wildlife, 1500 Dublin Rd., Columbus, 43212.

OHIO'S FROG SEASON closed May 1, with the exception of Pymatuning Lake, but will reopen June 16 at 6:01 p. m. It is unlawful to take, possess, transport or sell wild frogs during this closed period.

BEAVER TRAPPING in Pennsylvania the past season fell below expectations. A total of 3,477 trapped, short of the 4,515 caught in the state in 1965. Poor weather conditions were the principal reason for the decline.

An in-season stocking program has been inaugurated in Pennsylvania in an effort to provide more consistent trout fishing during the season.

Raccoon Creek State Park Lake in Beaver County is one of the 40 lakes and 64 streams included in the program. Four to six plantings will be made during the season at weekly intervals.

FISHING IS BIG business in Ohio. Estimates show Ohio's license buying fishermen spent over 229 million dollars during 1965 in pursuit of the sport.

Steve Jasenec of Kinsey St. used a minnow to catch a 6 1/4 pound smallmouth bass at Guilford Lake. From the same boat, David Hays, son of Jim Hays of Globe St., caught a 14 inch crappie.

PENNSYLVANIA'S MUSKELLUNGE, northern pike, pickerel and walleye season opened today and continues through midnight, March 14, 1967.

Pickerel and walleye must be 15 inches. The daily limit is six of each. Muskellunge must be at least 30 inches long and the minimum on northern pike is 24 inches. The daily limit is two of each.

In some counties the minimum size on northern pike is 20 inches and the creel limit is six. Check your fishing regulations for the full details.

fields. Night mowing should be discouraged in favor of daytime operations because more nesting birds will escape the cutting bar during the day.

Game flushers help. If a nest is seen, the operator of the tractor should mow around it when possible, leaving a little vegetation standing.

Unbroken eggs should be left in the nest because hens often will return after the mower has passed.

Farmers mow early because of the higher protein content and price of the hay. Recent data indicates pheasants will nest in fields cut early, but if it is recut before July 15, the hen and nest are liable to be destroyed.

A SECOND EXPERIMENTAL teal season has been scheduled for Ohio this fall. The season dates have not been set, but it will be during late September. The shooting hours and bag limits will be similar to the 1965 regulations.

You And The Law

Mrs. Roe was driving her car along a hilly and curving highway. Just as she came over the top of a hill, a tire blew out, the car swerved to the left and settled down on its left front fender in the middle of the highway. She opened the door and started to get out.

At this time, Charlie came over the crest of the hill in his new sports car at a speed of about 50 miles an hour. He could not see Mrs. Roe's car until he was less than 100 feet away. He ran into it, knocking Mrs. Roe to the highway and causing her serious injuries.

SEVERAL months later, Charlie received a summons. Mrs. Roe was suing him because of her injuries.

Charlie took the summons to his lawyer. He was outraged. "What does she mean suing me?" he asked. "The stupid dame was stopped in the middle of the road! I was driving under the speed limit! I ought to sue her for the damages to my car."

Charlie was wrong. When he came over the crest of the hill, he was in violation of the assured clear distance law, which Ohio and most other states have.

Every driver, regardless of the posted speed limit, is expected to drive at such a speed that he can stop in the distance he can see ahead of him. In a heavy fog that might be five miles an hour. When Charlie came up the hill, he could not see over the crest. Let us say that he could see only 80 feet ahead. So he should not have driven at a speed greater than would permit him to stop within 80 feet. On hilly, curving highways this means some slowing down on hills and curves.

It can readily be seen that weather and other conditions affect the lawful speed. If the pavement is wet, the assured clear distance to be maintained becomes greater and the lawful speed becomes less, because a car cannot be stopped in the same distance as on dry pavement.

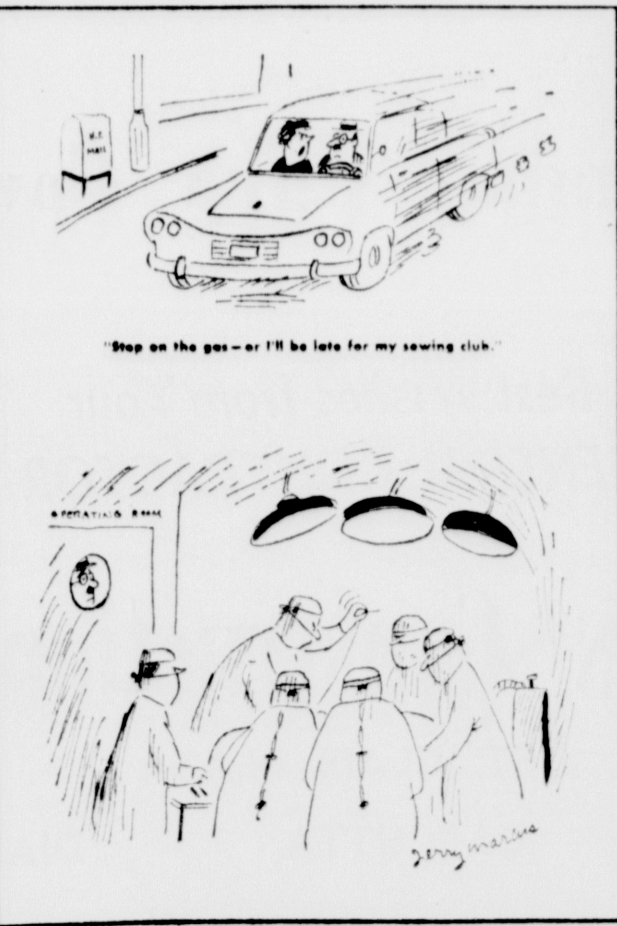

IT IS true, of course, that people and things should not be lying in the middle of the road. But the law requires every driver to drive so he can stop without hitting them if they are.

There is an exception, or a defense. If a person or thing suddenly intrudes into the assured clear distance, then the driver cannot stop and is not expected to.

If, for example, a person can see 80 feet ahead and is driving lawfully at a speed which allows him to stop within 80 feet, he is not in violation of the law if a person suddenly jumps out in the road ahead of him and less than 80 feet from him.

In no circumstance can a person see something on the road ahead of him and just run into it because it should not be there. He must stop if the road is blocked, and he must watch where he is going and drive slowly enough that he can stop in time.

LEE SWEARINGEN

A dentistry career is contemplated by Lee Swearingen, son of Mr. and Mrs. James Swearingen of Chester R.D. 1, senior at Oak Glen High School.

Lee's major high school activities have included membership in the Oak Glen varsity band for three years, the Student Council his sophomore year, attendance of Mountaineer Boys' State last summer, receiving of God and Country and Eagle Scout awards, and serving as vice president of the National Honor Society.

He enjoys water skiing during the summer, and has taken quite an interest in drums. He began playing eight years ago.

Lee plans to attend West Virginia University next fall.

The Lighter Side

O. MCINTYRE, the country boy from Gallipolis who worked briefly for the old East Liverpool Morning Tribune before going on to fame and fortune as a syndicated New York columnist, won a prominent place in the new book, "The Big Spenders," a story of the legendary rich by the late Lucius Beebe.

As a youthful reporter, Beebe struck up an acquaintance with McIntyre in New York. By that time, the once impecunious, tattered reporter from Gallipolis and East Liverpool earned over $5,000 a week from his column, "New York Day by Day," which was published in more than 500 newspapers.

In his book, published at $6.95 by Doubleday, Beebe tells of accompanying McIntyre on a shopping expedition in which he estimated the columnist spent a minimum of $10,000.

It was a half century or more ago that McIntyre worked briefly in East Liverpool for Jere Simms, editor and publisher of the old Tribune. Few of his contemporaries are still around and most of the stories told of his East Liverpool days are second-hand and probably apocryphal.

THE LATE POLICE Chief Hugh J. McDermott liked to tell of the times when McIntyre walked the once-tough 2nd St. beat with him. Center of most of the community's saloons and other establishments of lurid repute, 2nd St. produced a lot of colorful copy for police reporters.

In his favorite story about McIntyre, McDermott told of entering a saloon one night to break up a lively brawl. When he had quelled the disturbance, he turned to look for the reporter. McIntyre was nowhere in sight. McDermott found him standing atop a pile of railroad ties several hundred feet away. The cautious McIntyre had been watching the battle through a window.

Frank R. O'Hanlon, veteran director of the County Election Board, also knew McIntyre in his East Liverpool days. He tells the familiar story that Simms required his reporters to walk his favorite milk cow each morning and evening to and from a pasture on a hillside.

McIntyre complained bitterly of the chore because he thought it was beneath him as a "literary" man, although he probably was not making more than $3 to $5 a week at the time, O'Hanlon recalls.

O'Hanlon also recalls the stories that McIntyre left town unannounced early one morning, leaving behind a few small debts and "borrowing" another reporter's overcoat. But the debtors and the owner of the coat later were paid, he recalls.

THE FAMOUS COLUMNIST sometimes referred to East Liverpool in his columns and once in awhile dropped the name of McDermott or some other prominent person he knew in his days as a reporter here.

In his recently-published book, Beebe refers to McIntyre as "the dressiest representative of the New York Fourth Estate in the 20's and 30's."

He adds: "McIntyre was easily the best and most appreciative patron of Sulka, the exotic haberdasher and shirtmaker. He purchased Sulka's four-in-hand ties, which then retailed for between $8 and $12 each, quite literally 100 at a time, and lounging robes, for which he had a passion, on the same scale.

"With the author as a youthful reporter in tow, he once ordered no fewer than 50 elaborately brocaded, satin-faced and silk-corded house jackets and full-length dressing robes of the richest Sulka materials at a single sitting. The price range at the time was from $200 to $300 for one such magnificent garment, which would have made his day's expenditure at an absolute minimum $10,000, and probably substantially more."

"A generous-hearted country boy who hailed from Gallipolis, Ohio, and singlehandedly created the column which made him famous and which contained neither scandal nor gossip, Odd's idea of affluence in the days when he owned a single blue serge suit and pair of high-button shoes had been to have a Park Ave. address and own a limitless wardrobe. He lived to do both."

"HIS TWO FAVORITE restaurants were the Colony and Monetta's Italian establishment on Mulberry St. and both became rich on the strength of his constant mention of them."

"Odd's professional trademark was a homely twist almost as identifying as O. Henry's, which equated the urban sophistication of which he wrote with terms of small-town simplicity. He would list an elaborate repast at the Colony, dwelling on the splendors of caviar, the mink, monacles and champagne, then add 'but no pheasant ever tasted as good as the baked beans at the depot restaurant in Gallipolis, Ohio.'"

Beebe added that despite his expensive tastes in food and clothing, McIntyre "made careful investments and left his wife a fortune."

Stamps In The News

THE FIFTH in the new "Prominent Americans" series of regular stamps honors Frank Lloyd Wright, world-renowned architect. The 2-cent stamp will be issued June 8 with ceremonies in Spring

Green, Wis., where Wright worked and taught in the last years of his life.

The stamp was designed by Patricia Amarantides, a student in architecture at Tallies-in-West, a workshop at Scottsdale, Ariz., established by the Frank Lloyd Wright Foundation. Featured is a portrait of Wright and in the background is a portion of the Solomon R. Guggenheim Memorial Museum in New York designed by Wright.

Collectors desiring first-day cancellations may send addressed envelopes, together with remittance to cover the cost of the stamps to be affixed, to the Postmaster, Spring Green, Wis. 53588. Since first-day covers are considered first-class mail, collectors must allow for the 5-cent rate in submitting their orders.

THE SPRING issue of "Minkus State Journal" is well worth the reading. It contains interesting feature articles for the specialist or the new collector. Included are stories with photos on Viet Nam stamps, designs that didn't make it, a trip to Tanzania, SIPEX and a delightful one on "Perf," the Philatelic Poodle." Although the cost is 50 cents per issue, a special charter subscription rate of $1 per year (for four issues) is available for writing to "Minkus Stamp Journal," 116 W. 32nd St., New York, N. Y. 10001.

AUSTRIA HAS issued a new 3 schilling commemorative stamp honoring the 50th anniversary of the death of Marie von Ebner-Eschenbach, noted writer and poetess. The red-blue stamp depicts a portrait of the woman in her later years and bears the dates 1830-1916. She received many honors from Emperor Franz Joseph. Her stories and poems are still read with fervor in Austria. On her 70th birthday—Sept. 13, 1900—she received an honorary Ph.D. from Vienna University.

Home Hints

By Ann Overturf

Columbiana County Home Economist

If you do home food preservation, you have probably had the experience of having a whole crop ready at the same time. Canning or freezing two or three bushels of a vegetable in one day is both exhausting and frustrating.

In addition, when food is being frozen in a home freezer, only a small amount should be quick frozen at one time. The amount to fast-freeze is listed in your freezer instruction book. Usually it is 1-15 the total capacity of the freezer.

When larger amounts of unfrozen foods are added to a freezer, they do not freeze as rapidly. Then larger ice crystals form which cause a poorer texture of the finished product. Also, the temperature of foods already frozen in the freezer rises.

Quality of frozen products decrease rapidly with temperature fluctuation.

So when planting your garden, why not space your planting? When the first two real leaves of the first planting appear it is time to plant the second planting.

The first real leaves are those that appear after the seed parts. Then when the first two real leaves appear on the second planting, plant a third time.

This rule of thumb is good for most common vegetables such as corn, peas, beans, tomatoes, and cauliflower. By doing this successive planting, you can insure family garden - fresh vegetables longer during the summer. It won't be necessary to start using your recently canned or frozen vegetables as soon.

And the homemaker will not have as much produce to preserve at one time.

Fund Reaches $1,205 In Wellsville Drive

A total of $1,205.81 has been raised in the Wellsville Cancer Fund drive, according to Mrs. Betty Maylone, city chairman. She said $560 has been reported to date in the house-to-house phase of the drive, with two more districts yet to be heard from.

The city goal is $1,500, with the business total not yet reported, Mrs. Maylone said.

Man, Woman To Face Hearing On Murder

DAYTON, Ohio (AP) — A Dayton man and woman, charged in the slaying of the woman's estranged husband, will receive a preliminary hearing here May 27.

Geneva Shaner, 33, and 52-year-old James Haines, were arraigned Friday on first-degree murder charges.

The blanket-wrapped body of Harold Shaner, 43, was found in a Preble County creekbed Tuesday morning. Authorities said then it appeared he had been slain on a visit to Mrs. Shaner's house Sunday night and his body was dumped in the creekbed.

Man To Be Sentenced In Manslaughter Case

SANDUSKY, Ohio (AP) — A 39-year-old Sandusky man is awaiting sentencing Monday on a first-degree manslaughter conviction.

James O. Hayes was convicted by a jury that deliberated nearly 10 hours before reaching a verdict Thursday night. He had been on trial for first-degree murder in the shotgun slaying of Mrs. Inzeremolia Mosley last Feb. 12.

Essex Looms As Next Ohio School Head

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The name of Akron School Supt. Martin Essex emerged today as the big-city educator most likely to be appointed to the state superintendency Monday by the State Board of Education.

A board committee headed by Wayne E. Shaffer will meet prior to the regularly scheduled session Monday to end their search for a successor to Supt. E. E. Holt, who resigned in January.

Shaffer has made it clear he is seeking a superintendent from a large metropolitan area to take the post. Essex reportedly has been responsive to accepting the post, if offered. In Columbus, both City Supt. Harold Eibling and South-Western Supt. Paul Hayes have expressed disinterest in the post.

Essex is an Ohio State University graduate who began his education career as a principal in Middleport and school superintendent of East Liverpool. He also has served as superintendent at Ferndale, Mich., and Lakewood, Ohio, before moving to Akron in 1955.

Armco Steel Co. Plant Hit By Fire In Middletown

MIDDLETOWN, Ohio (AP) — Firemen were on duty through the night at an Armco Steel Corp. plant building, hit by a two-alarm fire Friday night. There were no injuries.

Armco officials were to meet today to assess the damage. A spokesman said "it could be considerable," with most of it probably to electrical wiring and some machinery.

The fire broke out about 9 p.m. in a section of the Spiral Weld Pipe Plant just south of Middletown, where steel pipes are made and coated with tar and asphalt.

None of the 20 persons employed in the plant was at work at the time. The last two men had left about 30 minutes before the fire was discovered in the coating section.

The flames were fed by the tar and asphalt. Hundreds of persons flocked to the scene. Middletown, Le Sourdsville and Mayfield firemen, in addition to Armco's own fire company, battled the blaze.

Boyd Wins Promotion In Air Force ROTC

James M. Boyd, son of Mr. and Mrs. John W. Boyd of 928 Neptune Ave., Chester, has been promoted to cadet captain in the Air Force ROTC at West Virginia University.

Boyd is a junior in the Professional Officers Course. He is a member of Arnold Air Society, Air Force honorary, and will command the 915th Wing Band during the Greater West Virginia weekend ceremonies at the university.

Parked Car Damaged In Downtown Mishap

A parked car was damaged when bumped by a backing truck Friday in W. Center Ln. west of Market St., police reported.

The hood of a 1960 station wagon owned by James L. Nentwick of Wellsville R.D. 1 was damaged when struck by a 1963 stake body truck operated by John L. Beaver, 20, of 169 Thompson Ave. and owned by Dorsey Beaver of the same address, officers said. The truck was undamaged.

Patrolman Paul A. Burson Jr. investigated. It requires 1,465 gallons of white paint to paint the White House, a task that is undertaken once every four years.

Slump Blamed On Drought

Castro Facing Financial Squeeze On Sugar Crop

WASHINGTON (AP) — Cuban Prime Minister Fidel Castro apparently faces a financial squeeze this year from a slump in his country's No. 1 money crop, sugar.

Castro acknowledged during a long speech this week that Cuba's 1966 sugar harvest will fail to reach 5 million tons, a million tons less than the 1965 crop. His goal this year was 6.5 million tons.

Castro blamed the reverse on a bad drought. But Washington analysts, who often disagree with Castro, credit Havana's setback to Communist mismanagement along with the lack of rainfall. They note, too, that world sugar prices have plunged from around 12 cents a pound in late 1963 to about 2½ cents a pound now.

What happens in sugar is generally regarded as the most important barometer of the island's economy, long founded on sugar. Soviet aid to Cuba and the U.S. trade embargo against Cuba have had only partial effect.

The Soviets are reported to be assisting their Caribbean satellite with more than $300 million a year, but Washington observers doubt the Kremlin is likely

Permit Lifted For 6 Months In Point Case

Municipal Judge Samuel M. Chertoff Friday ordered a six-month suspension in the driver's license of John Thomas Riley, 40, of Glenmoor after a hearing in which he ruled the motorist was an habitual traffic offender within the meaning of Ohio's 12-point "demerit" system.

Riley's case was certified to the court by the Bureau of Motor Vehicles, which reported he had accumulated 16 "points" against a minimum of 12 required for a citation to court to show cause why his permit should not be suspended. The state agency said Riley's record showed two arrests on charges of driving while intoxicated—accounting for six points each—and other citations for making an illegal turn and failure to stop for a traffic light.

Meanwhile, the judge set a hearing Tuesday at 10 a.m. in another "point" case for John E. Caplinger, 55, of 718 Central Ave., who originally was due to appear last Wednesday. The court learned Caplinger did not appear as scheduled at the first hearing because he still is confined to County Jail as part of a sentence for driving while intoxicated on April 1.

Sheriff's deputies will bring Caplinger to court for the "point case" hearing and then return him to Lisbon.

McIlwain Gets More Mention In Chairman Post

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — State Rep. Harry H. McIlwain's political star didn't dim greatly when his bid for the Democratic gubernatorial nomination failed Tuesday, a consensus of speculation indicates.

Ranking state Democrats have approached the Cincinnati legislator to sound him out on the possibility of taking over the party's state chairmanship, the Associated Press learned.

McIlwain denied that such discussions have taken place but said he had "heard some talk" about the possibility he might be offered the job.

The Columbus Dispatch said in a story Friday that some Democrats are suggesting the possibility of putting McIlwain on the November ballot in place of current State Chairman William Coleman, the nominee for lieutenant governor.

Jobless Rate Dropped To 3.7% In April

WASHINGTON — The nation's unemployment rate dropped in April to 3.7 per cent for the second time this year. That rate is the lowest in more than 12 years.

At the same time, the Labor Department reported, total employment rose to 73.1 million. A spokesman said this created further pressure toward labor shortages in the economy.

The jobless rate was down from 3.8 per cent in March. It had been 3.7 in February.

Harold Goldstein, assistant commissioner of the Bureau of Labor Statistics, said the figures showed continued strength in the economy and the most significant point was the long-term improvement in the past year. Unemployment dropped in that period from 4.8 per cent.

Both the rise in total employment, and the drop in unemployment to a total of 2.8 million, exceeded seasonal expectations.

The bureau adjusts the figures on the basis of normal seasonal trends. The unadjusted jobless rate in April was the same as the adjusted rate of 3.7 per cent.

Although Goldstein said the pickup in employment, mostly in manufacturing, created further pressures toward labor shortages, he added "there are still labor sources to be tapped."

Some economists are concerned that job shortages tend to bid up wages, adding to the threat of inflation which President Johnson has described as the chief domestic worry of the United States.

The unemployment rate for married men, the key breadwinner group which Goldstein described as "a very significant group in the labor force," edged down from 1.9 to 1.8 per cent, the lowest since the bureau started keeping records in 1954.

Ohio Bar Will Help Poor In Legal Cases

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The Ohio Bar Association has received the go-ahead to begin its federally financed program to help poor Ohioans solve their legal problems.

Gov. James A. Rhodes has approved the $64,000, year-long program, the Ohio Office of Opportunity announced Friday. The U.S. Office of Economic Opportunity granted the money.

Senior Housing Program Discussed At Lions Event

Harry Davis of Ambrose Ave., a retired railroader, discussed "The Senior Housing Development Program" during the luncheon meeting of the Lions Club Friday at the Travelers Hotel.

Davis emphasized the need for improved low - rent housing, particularly for senior citizens, pointing out that a large percentage of rental properties in East Liverpool and the surrounding area have been classified as substandard.

REFERRING TO a meeting last week between members of City Council and Housing Authority officials in which a resolution calling for 75 additional housing units was proposed, Davis claimed that, according to government standards, 260 units, including 130 for low rent housing and 130 for senior citizens, were planned originally.

He said the resolution was based on a form which had been drawn up previously in Toronto and that the only information which had been changed was the name of the town. Since 75 units had been proposed for Toronto, the identical figure was used on the East Liverpool form, he explained. He stressed the need of changing the figure according to the needs of the larger community here.

He added that Wellsville should have a high priority in housing development plans, because of many properties being torn down to allow for highway construction.

The Columbiana County housing program has not kept pace with programs in neighboring Ohio or Pennsylvania counties, according to Davis. "I cannot understand how elderly people can live on Social Security payments of $80 after paying $40 or $50 plus utilities for a two or three - room apartment. I do not see how they can pay food and doctor bills on the remaining $20 or $30."

HE CALLED attention to senior citizens' housing in Steubenville incorporating safety features and providing for emergency calls for the sick. "Everything has been designed for the convenience of the senior citizen," Davis commented.

"The rentals are based on income. A single person living on Social Security alone is entitled to an efficiency apartment combining a kitchen, dining room, bedroom, bath, walk-in closet and storage area for only $31 monthly, with television available for $1 extra," Davis said.

He explained that he did not speak as a representative of the Senior Citizens, but had undertaken research on his own in the field of housing development.

He was introduced by William Kyle, program chairman. A report on the Lions broom sale was presented by Charles Haugh.

The invocation was given by James Boyd. Ed Custer presided.

The event is an annual highlight of National Hospital Week and serves as a token of gratitude to twig members and volunteers who donate their time in various capacities to the Auxiliary's projects.

Taft Plans Viet Nam Trip To Help His Election Drive

CINCINNATI (AP) — Robert Taft Jr. of Cincinnati is planning a trip to Viet Nam to help him in his congressional campaign this fall.

The planned trip drew a response from Democratic incumbent John J. Gilligan, whom Taft will face in the November election. Taft won the GOP nomination Tuesday.

"I assume that Mr. Taft's proposed trip to Viet Nam is not for political purposes," Gilligan said.

"This terrible war in Southeast Asia is far too important to all Americans to play politics with," Gilligan added. "As we all know, it is literally a matter of life and death to thousands of our American sons."

Taft said Friday he believes "a personal visit to South Viet Nam is essential and will give me a firsthand knowledge of the war. At almost every personal appearance I have made the most asked questions concern the Southeast Asian conflict."

Gilligan said, "If Mr. Taft can learn something in Viet Nam which he cannot learn in Washington at briefings at the State and Defense Departments and which will be of genuine value to our national effort in Southeast Asia, I wish him well."

PTA At Lincoln To Name Officers

The nominating committee will report during the final meeting of the 1965-66 term of the Lincoln Home and School Association Tuesday at 7:30 p.m.

Election and installation of officers will follow.

The program will include a choir concert by fourth, fifth and sixth grade pupils under the direction of Mrs. Marwynne Serafy.

Parents may confer with the teachers from 7 to 7:30. Jack E. Talbot, president, will preside.

No Fingerprinting Due In Student Tests

WASHINGTON (AP) — Students taking the forthcoming draft deferment test will not have to be fingerprinted after all, says the Selective Service.

Earlier, officials had said fingerprinting would be required to make certain that only draft - eligible persons take the exams, which local boards will use to help determine draft classifications.

But it was announced Friday that other positive identification will be accepted.

Democratic Association Sets Meeting

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The Democratic County Chairmen's Association will meet here May 14, executive secretary Don Gosney, party chairman in Columbiana County, has announced.

Gosney said the recently - organized association, comprised of chairmen of 71 of Ohio's 88 counties, plans to cooperate with state Sen. Frazier Reams Jr., Democratic nominee for governor, in the fall election campaign.

Gosney mentioned as a possible contender for state chairman to succeed William L. Coleman, said association members are interested in selection of a full - time Ohio chairman. Coleman, nominee for lieutenant governor, is retiring after 10 years as state party head.

Gosney said without elaboration that he had received a "few calls" about the state chairmanship. He said he would seriously consider any offer to take that job.

School Attended By Patrol Officer

Ohio Highway Patrol Cpl. J. R. Lundquist of the Lisbon Post this week attended a special course in supervision for 30 selected Patrol supervisors at the Patrol Academy at Columbus.

The instructor was held by representatives of the Northwestern University Traffic Institute of Evanston, Ill.

The course included Supervisory Planning, Case Studies in Supervision, Human Relations, Principles of Leadership, Problems of Communication and other topics of importance to police supervisors.

This advanced training was made possible by a grant from The Insurance Institute for Highway Safety of Washington, D. C. The Insurance Institute is supported by a number of Auto Insurance firms in the interest of highway safety.

The officers completing the course will be designated as instructors, not only for the State Highway Patrol but to aid other police department supervisors as well, according to Colonel Robert M. Chiaromonte, Patrol Superintendent. They will instruct additional supervisors or classes for Patrol personnel immediately following completion of the course.

Two similar schools for interested supervisory officers of other police departments will also be conducted at the Patrol Academy. One will begin July 11 and the second July 18.

Officers desiring to attend these courses must be full-time police officers and recommended by their department heads. A nominal tuition fee will be charged to cover expenses including room, board and necessary classroom supplies.

Nearly 80 per cent of all public construction last year, valued at about $20 billion, was built for local and state governments. A third of the cost was contributed by the federal government.

Palestine Wins 2nd Straight Title; Roberts Top Scorer

East Liverpool's distance star Greg Manning, a junior, crosses the finish line to win the two-mile run in 10:37.4 a E. Palestine.

By BOB DUFFY
Review Sports Editor

The 63rd running of the Columbiana County track meet went down to the wire before a second place finish in the mile relay, final event of the evening, gave East Palestine its second straight title Friday night on its home cinders.

The 1966 meet did not produce any records, but was marked by the tight race for the championship between East Palestine and Salem who jumped in and out of the lead with every event.

Veteran coach Bill Ward's East Palestine squad finished with 56 1/2 points to win in a photo-finish over Salem which totaled 54 points. Before the final event, East Palestine held a 1 1/2 point edge on Coach Carl Zellers Quakers.

WELLSVILLE, which picked up its share of seconds and climaxed the evening with surprising victory in the mile relay, finished in third place with 30 points, edging out East Liverpool which wound up in the No. 4 spot with 25 points.

Larry Roberts, who emerged as high point man of the meet, placed Beaver Local fifth by scoring all 20 of his team's points.

The Beavers were followed by United with 19 1/2, Columbiana 18, Leetonia 16 and Crestview 1. Nine teams were entered in the county track carnival.

East Liverpool's only first place finishers were distance men Greg Manning and Bill Loy, a pair of long-winded juniors.

THE TWO-MILE run, a new event in high school track circles this year, was won by Manning in 10:37.4. The time was his best of the season in the event and thus becomes a county standard in its initial running.

Manning won the event easily while Loy, with a pulse pounding kick, captured the mile run in 4:37.9 finishing ahead of Wellsville's Bill Reed. Loy also placed fourth in the 880-yard run.

East Liverpool's other points came on a third place finish in the 880-yard relay. Ken Johnson's fourth in the high hurdles, a fourth by Tom Moore in the 440, another fourth in the mile relay and fifth place finishes by COACH KEN Woods' winning mile relay team was composed of Bob Morehead, Ken Rosenbaum, Tod Weekley and Jack Young who turned in a 3:38.8 clocking. The Tiger quartet received a trophy for winning the relay event.

Wellsville's Bill Reed was second in both the mile and half mile events. While Loy took the mile, East Palestine's Bob Hartford toured the 880-yard distance in 2:02.

Other firsts turned in last night were by Dick Farmer of United with a high jump of 5 feet, 10 inches, Tim Whalen of Leetonia who broad jumped 20 feet, 5 inches, Jack Hawkins with a measurement of 149 feet, 9 1/2 inches in the discus and Taucher of East Palestine who won the pole vault at 12 feet.

The results follow:

TWO MILE RUN — Manning (EL), Hood (W), Jewell (U), Hicks (S), Cope (Col). Time — 10:37.4.

100 YD. DASH — Fleisher (S), Roberts (BL), Sheets (S), Switzer (EP), Whalen (L). Time — 10.5.

100,000 Jam Churchill Downs For Kentucky Derby

Congratulations from queen Karen Summers of East Palestine was received by East Liverpool's mile winner Bill Loy (left) and Greg Manning who won the two-mile run in the County meet.

Kauai King's 5-2 Favorite To Win

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — More than 100,000 racing fans — from wealthy tycoons to nail-biting $2 bettors — jammed Churchill Downs to the rafters today for the 92nd running of the Kentucky Derby.

Center stage for America's most sought-after thoroughbred racing prize were four dozen owners, trainers and jockeys and 15 colts in the prime of their equine lives.

More than half the humans involved in the race were seeking the blanket of roses that be decks the winner for the first time. Four thoroughbreds, including the early favorite in the betting, had novice owners, trainers and jockeys.

When the special Derby mutual windows reopened at 9 a.m., Kauai King held a slight edge on the odds board over Abe's Hope. Kauai King was posted at 5-2 and Abe's Hope at 3-1.

But only $174,114 was dropped in the Derby pot on Friday in advance betting at the track. And that was less than a tenth of the amount expected to be in the pool by post time, 5:30 p.m. EDT.

Stupendous, Mrs. H.C. Phipps' sixth Derby starter since 1928, and Amberoid, first Derby starter for Reginald N. Webster, president of the Thoroughbred Owners and Breeders Association, also were getting good play.

The mutual field — shortened to four horses when Mary Keim withdrew Sean E. Indian because of injury — was posted at 14-1 in the advance betting.

Longshots in the race were Quinta, an early speed horse who has won four races at seven furlongs or less; Sky Guy, another quick starter with questionable staying power, and Fleet Shoe, a $5,200 purchase as a yearling in California.

Only a third of the 15 owners have been in the Derby spotlight before today and, of those, only Ada L. Rice has been to the winner's circle. She won last year with Lucky Debonair and was trying again with Advocate.

Bill Shoemaker, aboard Abe's Hope for his 15th Derby ride, had three times the experience of his nearest competitors — Bill Boland on Amberoid and Bill Harnatz on Dominar.

Hirsch Jacob's saddling of Exhibitionist led the trainers with his fifth starter, but was trying for his first winner.

The novice camps were those of Kauai King, Williamston Kid, Quinta and Blue Skyer, their owners, trainers and jockeys in the big race for the first time.

None of the trainers in the paddock for the 92nd Derby ever had been to the winner's circle before, and only four of the jockeys had won previous Derbies.

Wellsville's mile-relay quartet pulled a surprise by winning the final event and received the relay trophy for their efforts. The team includes (left-to-right) Tod Weekly, Jack Young, Ken Rosenbaum and Bob Morehead.

Orioles Edge Indians, 3-2, In Dramatic 15-Inning Tilt

By MURRAY CHASS
Associated Press Sports Writer

It's only the first week of May, but Cleveland and Baltimore are in post-season form.

They appeared to be playing for some sort of championship Friday night although it was down on the schedule as just another game.

Baltimore won the game 3-2 in 15 innings filled with color, drama and heroics.

Two unbeaten pitchers started the game — Dave McNally, 3-0, for the Orioles, and Sam McDowell, 4-0 who pitched one-hitters in his two previous starts, for the Indians.

The first inning wasn't even over when a recorded bugle call livened the proceedings. The bugle, blaring forth from the public address system, signaled "Charge," and Baltimore lead-off batter Luis Aparicio responded with a triple.

The bugle blared again, and Cleveland Manager Birdie Tebbets responded with a protest.

"I think the fans can generate enough enthusiasm without artificial help from the ball club," said Tebbets. "I don't expect to win the protest, but I'm going to keep it in and get a ruling on it."

The bugle, however, couldn't get Baltimore anything better than a 1-1 tie, and the teams battled into extra innings with McNally leaving after holding the Indians to three hits in 10 innings and McDowell departing after scattering seven hits in 12.

Then they reached the 15th, and it was announced that inning would be the last because a Baltimore city curfew does not allow an inning to be started after 11:59 p.m.

Beaver Local Scores 5-3 Victory Over ELHS Nine

The East Liverpool Potters baseball squad, which is to meet Coshocton in the District tournament Monday at Bridgeport, dropped its first game to an Ohio team this season when Beaver Local scored a 5-3 victory Friday at Colt Field.

After the Potters scored a single run in the first inning, the Beavers rallied on back-to-back home runs by Jeff Hall and Frank Quetot. Hall's came with a man on base.

The Beavers scored two more runs in the seventh inning while the Potters came up with a pair in the last of the seventh on a triple by Ed Golden which knocked in one run and a double by Goodballet which sent Golden home.

Hall was the winning pitcher while Lovejoy suffered the loss for the Potters. He was relieved by Jerry Vaughn in the fifth inning. Quetot led Beaver Local at the plate with three hits.

Several regular members of the Potter nine did not play Friday since they were competing in the County track meet at East Palestine.

The loss ended an eight-game winning streak by the Potters.

Giants Vault Into NL Lead As Pirates Bow To Phillies

By DICK COUCH
Associated Press Sports Writer

San Francisco left Bob Gibson at the gate and Atlanta caught Barry Latman at the wire, but Milt Pappas and Rob Gardner finally made the winner's circle in the pitching derby.

The streaking Giants parlayed a walk, an error and two of their three hits off Gibson Friday night into three first-inning runs and a 4-2 victory over St. Louis that shot them into the National League lead.

The Braves, held to one hit by Latman for eight innings, struck for six runs in the ninth and halted Houston's winning streak 6-0.

Pappas, meanwhile, gained his first victory in the league as Cincinnati slugged Los Angeles 7-1. And Gardner won for the first time in the majors as New York edged Chicago 2-1.

In the other NL game, Philadelphia spotted Pittsburgh four runs in the top of the 11th inning and then countered with five in its half for an 8-7 verdict that dropped the Pirates into second place.

Gibson's shaky start enabled the Giants to stretch their winning string to five games behind unbeaten right-hander Gaylord Perry and to climb 1 1/2 games ahead of Pittsburgh. Perry won his fourth — with late-inning relief from Frank Linzy — while Gibson's record dipped to 2-3.

Don Landrum and Willie McCovey, the first two batters Gibson faced, singled and walked, respectively. Willie Mays tapped to the mound but Jim Hart slashed a two-run triple and scored the third run of the inning when Tito Fuentes' grounder went through second baseman Julian Javier.

Gibson then retired 24 straight Giants — before Tom Haller homered with two out in the ninth — and established a personal career high of 14 strikeouts.

Latman, who had posted a sparkling 1.29 earned run average in three starts, limited the Braves to a third-inning single by Felipe Alou until the ninth, when Alou led off with another single.

The Houston right-hander walked Hank Aaron and, two outs later, Joe Torre singled across the first run of the game. A run-scoring double by Rico Carty knocked out Latman and the Braves went on to lock it up on a two-run single by Ed Matthews, a triple by Denis Menke and a single by pitcher Denny Lemaster.

Lemaster yielded seven hits in snapping the Astros' winning streak at five games.

Pappas, acquired by Cincinnati in the inter-league deal that sent slugger Frank Robinson to Baltimore, won for the Reds on his fourth try. He scattered eight hits, and retired the last 12 men he faced and was backed by Tony Perez' two-run homer and a three-run shot by Art Shamsky.

Coshocton Has 8-1 Mark, Strong Pitching Staff

Coshocton, East Liverpool's opponent in the District tournament Monday at 1 p.m. at Bridgeport, depends heavily on its pitching staff.

Coshocton holds an 8-1 record, defeated only by Mansfield Madison in a 3-2 contest and the season has been marked by winning close low-run games.

Winners of their last five encounters, Coshocton is paced by pitcher Bernie McDonald, a righthander, who holds a 3-0 record and pitcher-second baseman Dave Spangler who owns a 4-0 mark.

McDonald owns a good fast ball and sportswriters in the Coshocton area rate him as big league material. He also is the team's leading hitter with a .481 average and in two games this season has fanned 17 and 15 batters.

Coshocton, which is making its second straight trip to the District tournament, is a young team with only two seniors in the starting lineup. Four sophomores and three juniors round out the starting lineup.

The second leading hitter is Spangler with a .333 average while sophomore Steve Slaughter is hitting at a .318 clip.

275 Attend Annual Banquet Of Church League Bowlers

Some 275 members and guests attended the fourth annual banquet of the East Liverpool Church Men's and Women's Bowling Leagues Thursday night at Beaver Local High School.

Officers for the 1966-67 season were announced as follows: Millie Craig and Wanda Lipp, president and vice president, Women's Division; Forrest Sauer and Lynn Cowan, president and vice president, Men's Division; Anne Oyster, secretary-treasurer of each division.

The entertainment was by Mike Mosura and the Sweet Adelines.

An appreciation plaque was presented Lawrence Black of the Tri-State Lanes, who in turn presented sportsmanship awards to James Craig, Grace Mossman and June Bickar.

Also receiving plaques and trophies were: Men's champions, Fredericktown First Christian; Grace U.P. Cain's, second; and Mt. Zion Methodist, third. Women's champions, Fredericktown First Christian; Calcutta U.P. Mary's, second; and Mt. Zion Methodist, third.

First-division trophies were awarded Larry Bandier, Don Lipp, Jack Mossman, Kyle Mc-

Today In History

By The Associated Press

Today is Saturday, May 7, the 127th day of 1966. There are 238 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history:

On this date in 1915, the passenger liner Lusitania was torpedoed by a German submarine—with a loss of more than 1,000 lives.

On this date

In 1824, the first performance of Beethoven's Ninth Symphony was presented.

In 1863, Gen. Ulysses S. Grant opened an attack on Vicksburg.

In 1939, an open military and political alliance between Germany and Italy was announced in Berlin and in Rome.

In 1945, Germany surrendered unconditionally to the United States, Britain and Russia at Reims, in France.

Ten years ago — Six children killed in Breslau, Poland, while playing with a World War II bomb.

Five years ago — The government of the Congo said it had ordered the seizure of President Moise Tshombe of secessionist Katanga Province.

One year ago — An all-white jury in Lowndes County, Ala., reported it was hopelessly deadlocked in the trial of Collier LeRoy Wilkins Jr. for the killing of civil rights worker Viola Gregg Liuzzo.

Junior Editors Quiz on NATURAL RESOURCES

THE U.S.A. IS AN OIL-RICH COUNTRY.

COUGH WATCH

THE GRAY AREAS ARE WHERE OIL MAY BE FOUND

IN THE BLACK AREAS OIL IS ACTUALLY BEING PRODUCED

QUESTION: Are we running out of oil?

ANSWER: We often speak of oil as the lubricating oil used to prevent friction in machinery, but as used here, we are speaking of crude oil, or petroleum. This basic product of the earth has so much use in our modern lives that it is no wonder that a thoughtful person might worry about the supply running short. Think of the almost countless numbers of cars, trucks, buses—they are all run by burning gasoline, a product of petroleum. Planes streak through the sky by benefit of petroleum, motor craft use it, a great many houses are heated by it. Besides all this, it is used in plastics, paint and in a great many other ways.

With all this enormous consumption, however, the experts say we are in no danger of using up the petroleum which lies underground. As you can see in the picture, the U.S.A. is most fortunate in having enormous underground oil deposits. The areas shown in grey are those which geologists tell us may become producing areas; in the black ones, oil is at present being pumped up from underground. The world as a whole uses about 6 billion 400 million barrels in one year, yet the world's unused petroleum is estimated at about 229 billion, of which we have some 30 billion. So you can see that we need not be alarmed about using our oil. Some day, we will probably have atomic power to supplement it.

FOR YOU TO DO: Ask yourself, where did all these enormous reserves of petroleum come from? The answer is very interesting and worth while finding out. Look up petroleum in an encyclopedia.

George and Ernie Dillman of Enid, Okla., win today's combined prize of Compton's Illustrated Science Dictionary plus $10 cash for this question. Mail yours on a postcard to Junior Editors in care of The Review.

SAN QUENTIN, Calif. (AP) — The inmates at San Quentin are building a house within the prison walls.

"It gives them a chance to get the feel of their work on a real job," Homer Crowell, an instructor, said Friday.

The house will have all the comforts of home — two bedrooms, sliding doors and built-in laundry.

There's only one catch: Nobody will live in it.

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Singer Judy Garland and actor Mark Herron have separated after eight months of marriage.

Miss Garland's attorney said Friday the couple have begun a trial separation.

Herron, who is Miss Garland's fourth husband, has left the home where the singer lives with her two children, Lorna, 13, and Joey, 10.

They were married last Sept. 19.

WILMINGTON, Del. (AP) — Delaware's first Negro judge has resigned after serving five years of his 12-year term.

Judge Sidney J. Clark, now 37, was appointed to the municipal court in Wilmington at 32, the youngest judge in the state's history.

He denied Friday that his resignation stemmed from a smoke bomb tossed into his house last month. He said the part-time judgeship, which pays $9,150 a year, has been interfering with his private law practice.

"I've had threats, people calling me up in the middle of the night and things like that ever since I've been on the bench," said Clark.

Banquet Held Near Rogers

Eighty attended the mother-daughter banquet at the Lake Mount Church of Christ near Rogers Thursday night.

Mrs. Dorothy Sienerth was program chairman. A puppet show was presented. Mrs. Sandra Dawson was master of ceremonies and Miss Karen Hawkins gave the tribute to the mothers.

Jim LaClair sang "The Lord's Prayer." A chalk drawing was presented by Mrs. Elsie Bowers.

Receiving awards were Mrs. Mary Cope and Mrs. Zora Raley, oldest mothers; Mrs. Judy Cox, youngest; Mrs. Evelyn Barnhouse, most children; Mrs. Bowers, mother with most daughters present; Mrs. Donna Dunn of Petersburg, traveling farthest; Mrs. Dorothy Dougherty, mother with youngest husband, and Mrs. Janet McElhaney, youngest mother with gray hair.

Mrs. Charlotte Crawford and Mrs. Janet Ginter made the presentations. Mrs. Cora Belle Wilkes gave the closing prayer. Mrs. Ginter was in charge of the dinner. The table committee included Mrs. Virginia Urison, Mrs. Marilyn Anglemeyers and Mrs. Cora Raley.

There are now more than 18 million adults who are ex-smokers and most of these have been off the habit long enough to be considered permanent non-smokers, a federal study reveals.

Probe 2 Homicides

CLEVELAND (AP) — Cleveland detectives are investigating two apparent homicides on the city's east side Friday night.

The coroner's office identified the victims as Henry Parker, 33, shot during an argument over a $2 bet, George Lee Hill, 32, stabbed in the chest.

Homicide detectives reportedly were holding a 28-year-old east side man in connection with the shooting of Parker, and were looking for a man in the slaying of Hill.
